PRINTERS WORK OUT NEW PLAN

Convention Debates Details of "No-Contract" Labor Policy.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 23—The AFL-International Typograhical Union began today to work out details of the no-contract policy adopted by its 89th convention.

Winding up the sessions at which the printers decided they would make no more written contracts with employers under the Taft-Hartley labor act, President Woodruff Randolph said he had no idea "how long this storm will last."

In lieu of the written contracts which the printers have had with newspapers and commercial print shops across the nation, the ITU locals will post "conditions of employment" under which they will work.

Presumably members will remain away unless some agreement is reached over those conditions.

The issue will arise as each contract expires. Present contracts will remain in force in the meantime.

No Forms Accepted

The Printing Industry of America, representing the commercial shops and the American Newspaper Publishers' association, were offered forms by which contracts could be extended as they expired, but, Randolph said, none of them was accepted.

This "Form A," as it was called, applied only before the Taft-Hartley act became fully operative yesterday and guaranteed the union immunity from suits under the act.

Carl A. Dunnagan, president of the union employer section of the Printing Industry of America, addressed the convention, urging some form of arbitration. Randolph in later speeches was cool toward the proposal.

George N. Dale, industrial relations director for ANPA, described the convention action as "unfortunate."

Randolph told a reporter that it would be up to the international officers now to put the policy into effect.

"Don't Want Trouble"

"We don't want trouble with employers who don't want trouble with us," the scholarly-looking union boss asserted. "In other words, we're not looking for trouble," he added.

Aware that in some cities, like Akron, there might be sentiment for continuing the present contract system, Randolph said, "we will just have to work that out."

He declined to say how he would deal with any friction which might develop between lo-

Margaret Truman Confident on Eve Of Concert Debut

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23—Margaret Truman, the President's 23-year-old daughter, expressed confidence as she prepared to make her concert debut tonight as soprano soloist before at least 15,000 persons in Hollywood bowl.

"I actually think this performance is going to be harder on my family and friends than on me," said the young, blond singer. She expressed disappointment that the President and Mrs. Truman will be unable to be in the audience.

"I've worked hard preparing for this and I'm confident," Miss Truman explained. "But all Mother and Dad can do is sit back and wait for the reports."

The concert will not be broadcast.

Earlier this year Miss Truman made her professional bow as soloist with the Detroit Symphony orchestra on a nationwide radio program.

The Hollywood bowl officials reported advance sales have been "good and lively with at least 15,000 seats sold."

She will appear with the Hollywood bowl symphony under the direction of Eugene Ormandy.

COUNTY FAIR JUNIOR CONTESTS DECIDED

Winners in Livestock Judging Named on Final Day.

The 97th annual Marion County fair closed last night after presenting a full-day's program of entertainment.

Activities yesterday, the last day of a six-day schedule included the final round of the Junior livestock judging contest, harness races in the afternoon and two performances of radio's Grand Old Opry starring the Duke of Paducah last night.

Results of the harness races, including the one which had been rained out the preceding day, will be found on the sports page.

Attendance 30,000

Attendance for the six-day period was estimated to be over 30,000, fair officials said today, with approximately 8,000 turning out for the final day.

The junior judging contest, held in the new 4-H building, included contestants who judged various

Friendly Tilt Ends In Broken Glass, Injury

A bit of capering in front of the Y.M.C.A. last night resulted in a large plate glass of the reading room being broken out and a 16-year-old youth suffering a laceration of the right hip.

The youth was Richard Granger of the Gracely pike west of Marion. He and several companions were in front of the Y and he was apparently shoved into the window during a friendly tussle.

A friend, Gene Cooper, drove him to the hospital where he was treated and released. The cut was about one and a half inches long. The window was the largest one fronting State street, nearest the southeast corner of the Y.

TRUMAN SAYS RUSSIA WON'T KEEP PLEDGES

Solon Reports Remark, Adding He Warned President About Fascist Aides.

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—President Truman was quoted by Rep. Adalph J. Sabath (D-Ill) as saying that the Russians "don't carry out their promises."

Sabath told reporters the President made the statement to him during a White House visit Friday.

He said Mr. Truman did not specify what promises had been broken. He described the President's temper as being "not exactly angry, but he obviously was not pleased with the Russians."

Sabath said he and Mr. Truman discussed the international situation at length. At one point in the conversation, according to Sabath, Mr. Truman said, "The trouble is that they (the Russians) don't carry out their promises."

Warns Against Nazis

Sabath said he warned the President against listening too closely to "Nazi political gentlemen, Fascist groups and cartel leaders" who are trying to "magnify resentments and differences between the United States and Russia."

"I think he is being misinformed by those close to him," Sabath said.

He said he told the President that he believed the United States could get along with Russia and maintain world peace.

"I do not agree with the Russians and I am in favor of safeguarding our interests but I do not want to go to war for our oil interests or those who have interests in German cartels," Sabath said.

Sabath named John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign policy expert, and former Undersecretary Dean Acheson among those he believed were misinforming Mr. Truman.

"Many Others"

"There are many others who are connected with Wall Street and represent big German cartels and industries," he said.

Sabath told Mr. Truman that former President Herbert Hoover's proposal to restore German industry could lead to a Third World War.

Sabath told newsmen after his White House visit that Mr. Truman seemed "fully aware of that danger."

Sabath said he commended the President for his effort to solve the problem of displaced persons in Europe but suggested that this country might help considerably merely by curtailing the restrictions now applied to immigration under existing quotas.

He said that until legislative action is taken to admit more displaced persons to this country, every effort should be made to see that as many as possible are admitted under existing quotas.

King of Swing Benny Goodman Outswung By Tommy Dorsey in Bandleaders' Fight

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23—Benny Goodman, long known as the king of swing, apparently was outswung by Tommy Dorsey. That much seemed certain today.

Goodman was home nursing a sore nose and chin where, Goldwyn publicity agents said Trombone Tommy landed the old one-two at a recording session that got hot in more ways than musical.

The story, as the studio spokesman reconstructed it, was that Goodman arrived two hours late for the date yesterday, then aroused Dorsey's ire—not always deeply hidden—by interpolating some hot licks which caused a remake. Dorsey reportedly said:

"Look, Benny, I came here at nine with the other boys after working until two. Maybe you can sleep but we'd like to get this over with."

An exchange of phrases led to Dorsey's blows, ringsiders said. Goodman, who apparently landed only verbally, picked himself up off the bandstand and went home.

Later, Sliphorn Tommy sidestepped questions, denying he struck the clarinetist. Claimed Dorsey:

"There was a little verbal argument. A couple of music stands got upset. Why, I'm a musician. I couldn't punch my way out of a paper bag."

Goodman gave this version:

"I was just sitting there playing my clarinet when Tommy walked up and started swinging. I'm mystified about the whole thing."

He denied calling Dorsey any names.

Dorsey figured three years ago in an altercation with Jon Hall, but was acquitted of assault charges brought by the actor in a superior court trial.

Goodman and Dorsey have been rivals in the popular music field since their early Chicago days in the 1930's, but this was the first flareup reported between them.

The two musicians, along with jazzmen Louis Armstrong, Charley Barnet, Lionel Hampton and Mel Powell, were making final recordings for the soundtrack of a picture in which they appear.

VIRGINIA HILL TRIES SUICIDE

Slain Gangster's Hostess Rallies After Taking Overdose of Pills.

By The Associated Press

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Aug. 23—Virginia Hill today began to rally from a 67-hour coma which Detective Chief Charles W. Pierce said was "definitely a suicide attempt."

The detective chief declared "after she gets well, as she apparently will, we're going up to her home and get down to brass tacks with that whole crowd—Virginia, her brother, Charles, and that secretary, Jerki Mason."

Chief Pierce said previous efforts to get information from the household had "gotten us exactly nowhere, but the showdown is coming."

He declared that when Miss Hill was found unconscious, her head rested on a photograph of herself and Benjamin (Bugsby) Siegel, her gambler boy friend who was assassinated while seated in the living room of her Beverly Hills, Calif., home on June 20.

"We told her once to lay off sleeping pills," said Pierce. "We know definitely that she hasn't bought any since coming here Aug. 8 from Paris, so she must have brought them with her."

St. Francis hospital, where Miss Hill was treated for an overdose of pills and pneumonia, reported she was semi-comatose and while off the "very critical" list, was still in serious condition.

Miss Hill was rushed in an unconscious condition yesterday from her spacious home on Sunset isle No. 1, where she had recently installed an elaborate floodlighting and alarm system as a precaution against a gangland attempt at her life, to the hospital.

Miami Beach Police Chief Phil R. Short reported that "as far as I could find out, she took an overdose of sleeping pills."

A few weeks before Siegel was

WORKERS AT STRUCK GALION PLANT PAID

Employes Get Money as Firm, Union Clear Decks.

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 23—Employes of the strikebound North Electric company plant this morning and Friday afternoon received pay checks at the company personnel office. It was announced by the management that employes wishing checks mailed to their homes may do so by making a request to the company.

Further developments in the strike which has idled over 1,000 employes in the company plants in Galion and Mt. Gilead included the announcement this morning by Floyd Bender, vice president in charge of production that all employes who want their tool boxes and personal property may get these Monday morning at the plant.

It was reported by UAW organizer Edward Duck that a load of steel that had arrived at the plant since the strike was called, had been refused by the company and sent back to Detroit. An empty box car on the shipping platform siding was removed yesterday, union representatives reported.

Organizer Duck announced today that the union will consent to an election to determine the bargaining agency for company employes conducted by city clergymen, if the management agrees to negotiate. He stipulated, however, that the union would demand separate elections by production workers and office employes, and that under no consideration would workers return to their jobs until a contract has been signed with the union that contains a substantial wage increase.

The plant has been closed since Wednesday p. m., after workers left their jobs Wednesday to vote at a mass meeting to close the plant until the company gives recognition to the United Auto Workers (CIO) union as collective bargaining agent, and grants a wage increase.

Pickets have surrounded the plant since Wednesday at 3 p. m., keeping out the second shift on that day as well as all other employes since they left the plant Wednesday evening.

Since the arrival of two more international representatives of the union, Thomas [illegible], vice president of the state CIO council, and Orville J. [illegible] of Toledo, Thursday night, there have been no new developments in the [illegible]

FARMER FOUND DEAD IN FIELD NEAR LA RUE

John C. Burbaugh, 73, Discovered Slumped Over Tractor.

Special to The Star

LARUE, Aug. 23—John Christian Burbaugh, 73, was found dead this morning on his tractor in the lane back of the barn at his farm a mile west of the Sally Ann Inn, near LaRue. He lived alone. His body was discovered by a member of the family, and investigation by tthe Marion county sheriff's office.

It is believed that he died some time yesterday forenoon as he was about to go to a field to mow. He had evidently felt symptoms of illness in time to shut off the tractor switch, and his body was found slumped over the steering wheel. The family said he had suffered a light stroke previously, but had seemingly recovered.

Born Aug. 11, 1874, near Little Sandusky, he was a son of William and Mary Louise Burbaugh. His wife, Mrs. Minnie Gerwood Burbaugh, died in November, 1937. He was a member of the LaRue Methodist church and had lived near LaRue more than 30 years.

Surviving are children, Marvyn Burbaugh of near Morral, and Mrs. Walter Cluff of near LaRue, five grandchildren, brothers, Samuel of near Richwood and Edward of near LaRue, and sisters, Mrs. William [illegible] of LaRue and Mrs. Nelson [illegible] of Marion.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. in the Methodist church by Rev. C. A. Hutchinson, pastor.

The body was brought to the [illegible] funeral home here.

MONEY TO BE PAID FOR GUILTY ONE'S ARREST, CONVICTION

By W. T. BUCHANAN
Marion Star City Editor

Plans of the Waldo community for offering a reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of the kidnaper of 20-month-old Carolyn Jeannette Peterson took definite form today following a meeting of citizens in the town hall last night.

This morning a group of volunteer solicitors took the field to raise at least $2,500 for this purpose. It is hoped to have the money in a bank by Monday.

Determination to offer the reward started yesterday as a spontaneous movement after numerous residents of the Waldo community had offered to contribute to such a fund.

At the meeting last night the plans were modified in several respects after more mature deliberation and on the advice of Prosecutor James E. Reed, who attended the meeting with Deputy Sheriff Raymond LaMonda.

Fund Organization Formed

One of the first accomplishments at the meeting was to form an organization to raise and have charge of the fund. It is headed by Rev. S. C. Long, pastor of the Waldo St. Paul's Lutheran church. Other members are the three Waldo township trustees, George Smith, Elza Smith and H. E. Lust, and three members of the Waldo town council, Harry Klingel, Lowell Gaston and Frank Groll. The group will be known as the Waldo Community League.

It was determined at the meeting to increase the fund to $2,500 from the $2,000 at first proposed. Rev. Long said today he expected the money to be raised easily. He also said town and township officials were included on the committee in order to make it representative of the entire Waldo community. While the solicitation will be confined to the Waldo area, contributions will be welcomed from any one, regardless of their place of residence.

Reward Provisions Changed

A change was made in the wording of the reward offer. It was made clear by the committee today that the offer is to be made for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty party or parties. The first reaction of the informal group yesterday was to make the offer for the safe return of Carolyn.

It was pointed out last night by Prosecutor Reed that this would be in the form of a ransom to buy off the kidnapers. He said the offering of rewards was regulated by state law and that there must be information leading to arrest and conviction.

Another change was made in regard to disposition of the fund in case the reward never is claimed. It was determined at the meeting that in this event the money will be returned to the contributors. Yesterday it had been proposed to turn the fund over to the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson, in case no claim was made.

Rev. Long pointed out today that this probably would not be the proper course, since the family is not in "dire straits" and that the money would in no way compensate the family for the loss of their child.

No specified time has been set within which the reward must be claimed, the committee chairman said. The matter will depend on circumstances as they develop. Final disposition of the fund and the rights of any claimant will be determined by the committee.

Rev. Long said there would be a small expense in connection with the reward offer. In case the money is eventually returned to the contributors the xpense will be pro-rated on the basis of their contributions.

To Distribute Bulletins

The expense will be principally for the preparation of bulletins carrying a picture and description of the child. These will be given widespread circulation in police departments and sheriffs' offices throughout the United States. The cards are now being prepared.

The county commissioners this morning decided to offer $500 for the reward fund. A resolution to this effect will be passed at a regular meeting Monday, Commissioner Carl Lehner said. Sheriff Retterer said this morning he would make a personal contribution of $100 to the fund. The Delaware Eagles lodge at a meeting last night voted to contribute $25 to the fund.

In addition to these, scores of other contributions have been volunteered by Waldo and Marion individuals and business firms.

Will Search River Again

In the meantime the intensive search for Carolyn Jeannette, who disappeared about 11 a. m. last Wednesday, was at a standstill this morning for the first time in nearly 72 hours.

However, one last search of the Olentangy river was to be made this afternoon by a party headed by Sheriff Retterer.

The searchers will use the new row-boat recently acquired by the sheriff's office for this purpose. It will be taken to the river on its special trailer. This will be the first time the boat has been used.

The sheriff said the searchers would cover the river from a point west of the Peterson home to the conservancy dam some distance below Waldo. The river-bed will be searched with rakes.

"Although we are convinced the child never reached the river," the sheriff said, "we are not overlooking any possibility." As early as last Thursday, 24 hours after the child disappeared, Sheriff Retterer said he was convinced the child had been kidnaped.

News Reel Pictures Taken

The case became the subject for news reel coverage today with the arrival here of a representative of Pathe News Reel of New York City. H. J. Germann, Pathe representative of Springfield, O., came here to make a news reel story. He said it would be released next Tuesday to theaters nationally. He was to photograph the searching operations at the river this afternoon as well as members of the Peterson family at the home on route 98.

When Park Pigeons Step on People It's Hot

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—A heat wave is only a warm ripple in Manhattan until the public parks become so crowded the pigeons start stepping on the people.

Then you know it's really hot.

If you wore an egg under your armpit in Tucson, Ariz., or Dodge City, Kan. on a torrid day, it would probably end up hard-boiled by nightfall. Do the same thing in New York and the egg would merely become poached. Try it in London — if you could find an egg — and it probably wouldn't hatch all summer long. Summer in England is usually the third Wednesday in July.

Hal Boyle

A thermometer is a pretty good index to the severity of a heat wave in most sections of America. Here it is not so good.

A heat wave in New York is compounded of temperature, humidity and humanity. It doesn't last as long as it does in Timbuktu, Key West and other cities outside the National league, but while it endures the sun bears down with malignant majesty.

On days when the air is moisture-laden and the thermometer climbs above 90, New Yorkers begin to pant. If the temperature goes to 95 or higher, the city becomes a concrete and steel hell of dripping misery.

The subways are a cool refuge the first day. Then they steam up too, and stepping into them is like falling into a soggy hot blanket.

Aid-Conditioned Movie

The only way to escape the heat and remain in town is to go into an air-conditioned bar or movie. The cliff dwellers of this Babylon-on-the-Hudson have no cool basements to retire into as do the house-holders of the middle west.

If the heat wave lasts four days, that is when the croop-feathered pigeons and the rumpled people begin quarreling over who has the right-of-way along park sidewalks. "Peeping toms" enjoy a field day. Men and women strip down to nothing in their stifling apartments and don't bother to pull the blinds. Who cares?

It is hardest on the kids. Some find a way to turn on fire hydrants and stretch out their pale, skinny arms in the cooling rush of water. Others mope listlessly on the sandstone stoops, too energy-drained even to play "stick ball" in the streets. My wife, Frances, says that Manhattan babies even have a different cry then, a fretful wail as if unseen fiends were beating them with small invisible whips.

Resented Surprise

The rest of the country is pretty well inclined to take a heat wave as an act of God, to be expected, accepted and endured. Here the hot days of summer always come as something of a resented surprise—exported on purpose by the midwest to subject the big city to unnecessary fleshly trial.

But the humidity itself is acknowledged to be a native product. And that's what makes the heat really bad. When the humidity—the relatives percentage of moisture in the air—gets above 90, someone is always calling the weather bureau to ask:

"Can you help settle a heat wave argument we're having? What happens when the humidity gets above 100 per cent."

"It rains," says the weary weather bureau.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Don't Let Cold Hold

ONCE a cold really has a hold on you, there does not seem to be much that can be done to get rid of it. The best thing in this case seems to be to forget about treating the cold and take care of yourself by going to bed and staying there until well, avoiding exposure, taking plenty of fluids, and eating a well-balanced diet.

When a cold is just beginning, however, Dr. David Haler, of London, England, believes that the method which he employs will succeed in staving it off at least in eight out of ten cases.

The symptoms of a beginning cold consist of dryness or roughness of the throat, some dryness of the nose, some slight burning in the upper part of the throat, perhaps soreness of the eyes, and a heavy feeling in the head.

When these symptoms occur, it is suggested that the patient at once be given a large dose of vitamin C, or ascorbic acid, by mouth. This is followed immediately by spraying into the nose and throat of a solution of a substance called sodium sulphacetamide, and what is known as a wetting agent is also present in the solution which makes it easy for the material to penetrate into the lining membranes of the nose and throat.

Every Three Hours

This spraying is repeated every three hours for three or four treatments. The next day, a further dose of the vitamin C is given and the spraying of the nose is carried out once or twice. As a general rule, this suffices.

Of course, treatment of this type must be given under a doctor's care. There are some objections to the repeated use of sulfonamide preparation such as the one mentioned. These are that the lining membranes may become sensitized or over-sensitive to the preparation, and that germs may become resistant to the action of the sudfonamide preparations.

However, Dr. Haler reports that he has treated several hundred patients in the way described and neither of these complications occurred.

While the symptoms I describe are the common or unusual ones, they may vary to a great degree in different patients. Each patient often learns to recognize the symptoms which indicate the oncoming of a cold.

Persons who suffer frequently from colds may find the method of prevention as described above worthwhile.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

B. M.: Is there any reason for alarm when a ten-year-old boy complains about a pain around the heart?

Answer: I hardly believe that the condition is serious. However, in order to be sure, I would suggest that the heart be carefully examined by a physician to determine if there is any abnormal condition present.

CANADIAN PAIR ROB BANK OF $40,000

By The Associated Press

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 23—Canadian police tightened a net around this border city today in their hunt for a pair of jittery bandits who snatched approximately $40,000 from a Royal Bank of Canada branch in a daring daylight raid.

Armed with a sub-machine gun and a pistol, the two staged Windsor's first bank holdup in years during closing hours yesterday, lining 10 employes and 15 customers against a wall while they gathered up all available cash but spurned $60,000 in victory bonds.

Their escape car was found abandoned on the east side of the city a short time after the holdup, but 10 hours later city, provincial and Canadian mounted police had found no trace of the robbers.

Manager Ambrose A. Kinahan told police he thought he recognized one of the unmarked bandits—the man armed with the machine gun—as Ulysses Lauzon of Windsor, who fled the Kingston penitentiary Mondal with two other long term prisoners.

Both robbers seemed "nervous," Kinahan related, adding, "the chap who stuck the tommy gun in my ribs shook so much that I was afraid it might go off from the vibrations."

The two ordered employes and patrons "to line up or we'll blow your heads off." They shoved one woman teller roughly as they forced her from her post and warned another woman employe, "don't touch any buttons."

Quickly they emptied cash drawers into a brown bag, passing up the bonds in the bank vault. Then, the pair fled scarcely five minutes after the raid started.

Lindbergh Law Invoked In Mansfield Kidnaping

By The Associated Press

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 23—The Lindbergh law was invoked yesterday by U. S. Attorney Arthur A. Maguire against Chester Lawrence Gasunas, 22, Hanover, Mass., native, who is charged with kidnaping a Mansfield, O. taxicab driver on July 9.

Gasunas is held in the Steuben county jail at Bath, N. Y., accused of a three-state one-man crime wave climaxed by his arrest by New York state police after a gun battle with a Hornell, N. Y., motorcycle policeman.

Maguire forwarded the warrant to the U. S. attorney at Buffalo, N. Y., with the information that Gasunas is wanted for trial at the next term of U. S. court in this city beginning on Oct. 19.

Victim of the alleged kidnaping was George Nigh Wade, 23, of Mansfield, who subsequently escaped at Coudersport, Pa.

Cleveland Transit Strike Threat Lifted by Pact

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23—Threat of a strike on the Cleveland transit system was lifted today after CTS and union leaders agreed to submit their dispute to the system's labor umpire.

The 4,000 transit crewmen, members of the AFL-City Transit Employes union, had said they would strike at midnight today in protest against scheduled one-man operation of Kinsman road cars.

An agreement to let Ralph Hertz, transit umpire, make a decision on the one-man operation was reached in a meeting late yesterday.

DR. F. T. MERCHANT RECEIVES HIGH HONOR

Elected to American College of Surgeons Membership.

Notification of election to the American College of Surgeons has been received by Dr. Frederick T. Merchant. This high honor in surgery is conferred by the College annually upon selected surgeons in the country. This year the convocation and conferring of the Fellowships will be held in New York City Sept. 12.

The requirements for election to the American College of Surgeons are based upon a minimum of eight years of surgical experience, training and preparation, research work, publication of papers, and adherence to the ethical pinciples and fundamental practices as established by the College. Such election provides for the national recognition and acceptance of specialization in the field.

Dr. Merchant will leave for New York Sept. 6, not only for the convocation, but also to attend the Clinical Congress of the American College. The Congress is one of the foremost surgical meetings of the year, and provides ample opportunity to meet with other surgeons and to learn of the various new developments in the field.

This is the second high surgical honor to come to Dr. Merchant within the last year. In November, 1946, he was certified by and elected to the American Board of Surgery. This election was based upon rigid written and oral examinations together with satisfying the surgical operative requirements and the necessary surgical training to qualify for specialization.

Specialization in the field of surgery was begun by Dr. Merchant, following his graduation from the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, Baltimore, and has been carried forward continuously since that time. He took one year of study in pathology, and four years of post-graduate study in surgery, including two years as resident surgeon at the Royal Victoria hospital, Montreal, Canada. Following this period of training, he entered the U. S. Army Medical Corps, where because of his training, he served four years in the surgical branch. This included a year as assistant chief of surgical service in hospitals in this country, and as chief of a thoracic surgical team here and in Europe for three years. He was released from active duty in December, 1945, and was subsequently promoted to the grade of lieutenant colonel in the Reserve Corps.

Following nine years of continuous preparation in surgery and the termination of his military service, Dr. Merchant returned to Marion to establish private practice, specializing in general surgery. He was graduated from Harding High school in 1929, and from Ohio Wesleyan university in 1933.

He recently was appointed to a three-year term on the general surgical section of the Ohio State Medical association.

NEW STATE HEALTH GROUP MAY BE SET

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 23—A new section of the state health department may be set up next year to help Ohio communities improve their hospitals under the national hospital act which furnishes federal funds to match local money.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director, said the section would review the plans of the cities and villages to make sure they meet federal requirements as to architecture, engineering, medical facilities, and statistics. As soon as an application is cleared here, he said, it can be forwarded to Washington so the federal government's 33 1/3 per cent contribution to the project can be released with little delay.

A $29,500 appropriation of the legislature will enable the health department to complete a survey of hospital needs throughout the state by the end of the year, Dr. Porterfield said, but about $37,000 a year will be needed to carry on the work of clearing plans during the five years of the federal program. Congress provided $2,500,000 to $2,700,000 a year as Ohio's share of the actual building and improvement money.

The survey so far shows an official count of 19,977 general hospital beds in Ohio, Dr. Porterfield reported, while the state needs 33,750 on a basis of a population of 7,500,000.

However, he added, many of the present beds "are located in old and otherwise undesirable structures and should be replaced."

"Our present deficit of 13,773 beds represents only a portion of our actual need," he said.

The federal program contemplates providing 4.5 beds for each thousand population.

"Provided that the general assembly will authorize funds for the continuation of the survey and planning program now under way," Dr. Porterfield declared, "Ohio communities should become eligible to apply for federal aid early in 1948. Present appropriations will carry the program only to the end of 1947."

ILLNESS FATAL TO HOMER W. WATTS

Hartford St. Resident Dies; Funeral Monday.

Homer Wesley Watts, 57, a resident of 467 Hartford street, died in City hospital at 3 a. m. today following an illness of three weeks. He suffered a heart attack.

Born May 4, 1890, in Gallia county, he was a son of James and Viola Skinner Watts. He was a painter and carpenter by trade, and lived in Marion 11 years, coming here from Prospect.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Vila Fern Haney Watts, whom he married Nov. 28, 1946, children, Mrs. Nellie Robertson of White Oaks road, Mrs. Viola Eaton and James Watts, both of the Smeltzer road, and Charles Watts of the Green Camp pike, four grandchildren, a brother, Harley David Watts of Bellefontaine avenue, and a sister, Mrs. Maddie Malick of Newark.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 3:30 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue by Rev. E. H. Wierth, pastor of First Evangelical and Reformed church. Burial will be at Brush Ridge. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

Says Child Welfare Head Misappropriated Funds

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 23—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today charged Carl V. Wagner, former executive secretary of the Lorain county child welfare board, had failed to account for $1,483 of the board's funds.

Findings for recovery of this amount in favor of the Lorain county treasury were made in a state examiner's report on file today in the auditor's office. The money was alleged to have been that received from children's parents.

Wagner, appointed to the position Aug. 1, 1946, resigned July 1, this year. The examiner's report covered the period from Feb. 2, 1946 to July 1, 1947.

Auditor Ferguson said no record could be found of a $50 gift made by Fred W. Danner of Akron, though Wagner had acknowledged the gift with "I am sure your kindness will enlighten this Christmas for these children."

Cleveland Women Join Revolt Over Long Skirts

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23—Two group of Cleveland women added their voices today to the rising chorus against long skirts.

A dressmaker and 11 other recruits in the style war met at the home of Mrs. Olga Mikolsky and formed a "Little Below the Knee" club.

Mrs. Mikolsky said she was sure at least 700 women in the Euclid section would join and that a friend was preparing to start a similar organization in Wickliffe.

The other attack on the sinking skirts came from a group of Fenn college co-eds, who staged a burlesque of the trend which they said threatened to "ruin" the mode of campus dress.

Although they described the new fashions as "funny" and "so silly," the college girls made no promises of a campaign.

Marion Minister On Centennial Program

Rev. Emil C. Klutey of Marion will be one of the guest speakers at Freelandville, Ind., when the Bethel Evangelical and Reformed church there observes its hundredth anniversary next week. He is one of more than 25 men who have entered the ministry from Bethel church, and is pastor of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church here. The Freelandville church, one of the largest congregations in the denomination, has arranged its centennial celebration from Aug. 24 through Aug. 31, and it will be on the latter Sunday morning that Rev. Klutey will speak, emphasizing Christian education.

The injured are Robert Schwartz, 23, and his three-year-old daughter Sandra K. They are in Lima Memorial hospital.

NEW CLUE IN SEARCH FOR DELAWARE GIRL

Fictitious Name Used in Marion Reported.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Aug. 23—A new clue which it is hoped may lead to the finding of Charlotte Glassburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Glassburn of Delaware, has been forwarded to New York police, Delaware County Prosecutor Clyde Lewis said Friday.

The clue is a fictitious name used by Miss Glassburn in a Marion tourist home where she spent the night a month ago before taking a bus for New York. The bureau of missing persons in New York has been unable to find any trace of the missing girl.

Prosecutor Lewis was informed yesterday that the girl used the name Janie Taylor when she registered at the tourist home in Marion. Her identity was established when the manager of the tourist home recognized her picture.

After receiving two letters from their daughter, the Glassburns feel certain that she is safe but are asking that the search be continued so they may be absolutely assured.

Mr. Glassburn recently returned from New York after conducting a fruitless search for his daughter.

Selling Numbers Called "Just Doing Lord's Work"

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Aug. 23—Arrested on a charge of selling numbers tickets, "Rev." Ernest Hall was quoted today by police as saying he had to "do business with the devil" to raise money for a new church.

"I had a talk with the good Lord," he explained to Lt. Alfred Beckosky. "He just says to me, "Reverend, you just go out and take them no-good gamblers' money and then you buy yourself a lot and build yourself a church.' 'I'm just going about the Lord's business."

Police said Hall was not an ordained minister, but preached occasionally in a community church. He is often addressed as "Reverend" by his acquaintances, officers added.

STRIFE SEEN FOR UN IN INDONESIAN CASE

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 23—The United Nations security council, its efforts to halt hostilities in Indonesia branded a failure by The Netherlands, appeared headed for trouble today in its efforts to reach a decision on the problem.

Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens, The Netherlands representative delivered a virtual ultimatum to the council yesterday, demanding that the council either "send troops" to Indonesia to police its cease-fire order, or keep hands off and let the Dutch handle the situation.

He said that killing had increased in Indonesia since the cease-fire order and implied that further intervention would intensify the conflict.

On the basis of statements made by the various delegates at two sessions yesterday it appeared the council might find it difficult to work out an acceptable solution of the difficulty.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said he was unable to accept proposals which had been submitted by Australia, the United States and China. These proposals would call for commissions either of three members or of the consuls in Batavia to supervise the UN ceace-fire order.

It was believed that delegates would attempt to work out some compromise during the weekend which would be acceptable to Russia.

In his appeal for the council to drop the Indonesian question, Dr. Van Kleffens declared:

"Never was there such killing on the part of the Republican troops and bands as since your cease-fire order. It is a strange and dreadful paradox that your cease-fire order has had an effect diametrically opposed to your humane intentions."

Just 20 days ago the council announced to the world that the Dutch and the Indonesians would comply with its cease-fire order as of midnight Aug. 4. This action had been hailed as the council's greatest triumph to date in its peace-keeping efforts.

River To Be Scene Of Gallilean Service

Announcement was made today that the Gallilean service of First Evangelical United Brethren church, to be held on the river bank below Newman's bridge Sunday, will be a half hour earlier than the regular Sunday evening service. The hour of the special service will be 7 o'clock. Rev. Garrison Roebuck, pastor, will preach from a boat, and a quartet will sing.

Americans normally send about 680,000 telegrams a day.

Mrs. Wm. T. Thilbrook Dies at Cardington

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, Aug. 23—Mrs. Edith Nicholas Thilbrook, 80, wife of William C. Thilbrook of Cardington, died in her home at 7:20 p. m. Friday. She had been ill seven weeks and suffered cerebral hemorrhage.

Born Nov. 2, 1866, in Lincoln township, Morrow county, near Fulton, she was a daughter of Jacob and Peace Mosher Nichols. Jan. 11, 1888 she was married to Mr. Thilbrook.

She was a member of the Presbyterian church in Mt. Gilead.

Surviving with her husband are children, Miss Carrie Thilbrook of Cardington, Misses Roberta and Ruth Thilbrook, both of Detroit, Ralph of Mt. Gilead and Orville of Cardington, and a sister, Miss Sarah Nichols of Cardington. Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. in the Curl mortuary here by Rev. Harry Finney of the Mt. Gilead Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Union cemetery three miles east of Cardington on U. S. Highway 42. Friends may call at the Thilbrook home until noon Monday.

Garden Club Unit Holds Election At Luncheon Meeting

OFFICERS, headed by Mrs. O. B. Morrison as president, were elected by the Green Thumb unit of the Marion Garden club when the members met for a 1 o'clock salad course luncheon yesterday at Hotel Harding.

Elected with Mrs. Morrison were Mrs H. E. Webster, vice president, Mrs. W. D. Finley, recording secretary, Mrs. R. E. Conley, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. E. E. Smith, treasurer.

Mrs. Dale Lawrence presided for a meeting which followed the luncheon and roll call was answered on the subject, "My August Garden Flowers." Reports of committees for the autumn flower show were given and programs and entries discussed.

For the program, in charge of Mrs. C. R. Pennisten, Mrs W. C. Haldeman, a member of the House and Garden unit, spoke and formed display arrangements of zinnias and gladioli, with artemisia and mountain ash as the background. She named the flowers as she arranged them, and also used various containers to illustrate her talk Mrs Haldeman also made a corsage of gladioli which she presented to Mrs Pennisten

Later, the club group visited the D R Hemmerly gladioli gardens on North Greenwood street, and each member was presented a bouquet of gladioli.

Places for 20 were laid for the luncheon at tables decorated with bouquets of garden flowers

At the September meeting roll call will be answered with a "favorite flower" and a bulb exchange will be held.

RUSS TO RELEASE 3 CAPTIVE YANKS

By The Associated Press

SEOUL, Aug. 23—The Russians announced today that three American enlisted men taken into custody just inside the Soviet occupation zone in north Korea Aug. 12 would be released Sunday

The American liaison officer at Pyongyang, Russian occupation headquarters, was informed by a representative of the Soviet command that the Americans would be released at the point where they crossed the border.

The three are T/5 Tommy F Pugsley of Benton, Wash., Pfc. John D. Hopfe of Seattle and Pfc Gerald K. Geffen of Port Chester, N. Y.

An American intelligence officer said they would be interviewed in Seoul Sunday morning

The intelligence officer expressed some skepticism of the Russian announcement, however

"Our attitude here," he said, "is 'seeing is believing'," and added that the Russians had promised to release the soldiers once before the day following their seizure (The Army had not previously disclosed the earlier Russian promise to release the men.)

Two Hurt in Radnor Accident Improving

Mrs. Russell Arnold of near Prospect, who was injured Friday in an automobile-train crash near Radnor, is reported to be "improving satisfactorily" at Jane M. Case hospital in Delaware where she was taken following the accident, according to a report from the hospital. She suffered a compound fracture of the right leg and facial cuts

Lee Evans of Thompson township, Delaware county, who suffered facial and body lacerations in the same accident, was released from the Delaware hospital today

The accident occurred when the car in which they were riding struck a stalled freight train, then was hit simultaneously by a southbound freight.

In Loving Memory

★Of Harry C. Ehrick, who passed away one year ago today.

Sorrow is something that must be borne alone. No word of any human being can comfort fully, no matter where our precious treasures find their resting place. From our lives, and love, he went away saying "Cheerio, my loved ones." From the silence of the great beyond he say, "Carry on." He, as many, lived, loved, worked, and gave his all. To us his memory is another star of human devotion. And a star lighted by a multitude of angels of love and mercy, that are servants of our heavenly father, will watch above the place where he sleeps in the yard at Forest Glen.

Mrs. Harry C. Ehrick
and Children,
Wililam F. Ehrick, brother.

Youth Suffers Burns In Fire at Garage

Jack Davis, 20, of 212 Sharp street suffered burns on the hands yesterday afternoon when gasoline in which he was washing them ignited. The gasoline caught fire as the result of flame from a water heater in his father's garage on Sharp street where he was working, firemen reported. He suffered second and third degree burns and was given first aide by firemen. He received further treatment from a physician.

An estimated $40 loss was sustained as the result of a fire in a garage used by Charles Patrick of 407 South Main street for the storing of antiques, firemen who extinguished the blaze reported. They were called at 6 p. m. last night and found that a rear auto seat cushion in the garage had become ignited. A bedstead was also burning.

TRUMAN

Quotas now are not being filled, he said.

Sabath said he told Mr. Truman that Mr. Hoover is "playing right into the hands" of Wall Street interests who seek to rebuild German industrial leaders who made possible Hitler's rise to power.

This movement, Sabath said, easily could lead to a rebirth of re-war cartels and to a Third World War.

"Mr. Hoover seems more interested in helping Germany than in helping the people who fought with us," Sabath said.

"He seems to be in favor of aiding our enemies and punishing our friends."

Ohioan Shot in Car By Alleged Drunk

By International News Service

BELLAIRE, Aug. 23—A 21-year-old Centerville youth was in critical condition in Bellaire City hospital today after being wounded in the neck and side by a shotgun blast while driving through Glencoe.

Belmont County Sheriff Cloyd Barrickio said that he was holding a Glencoe tavern owner in the county jail for allegedly firing the shots which wounded Ray Haught.

Barrickio said that the man had been drinking and had stood on the porch of his home firing at cars as they passed. The sheriff said that Haught was the only person injured and that three other vehicles were missed by the suspect's shots.

Beat the Heat

THIS is the season when health commissioners come forward with advice on how to beat the heat. Eat light foods, they advise; drink fruit juices, don't drink ice water but let it run over the wrists occasionally, stay in the shade, don't heed the children's pleas to play tag.

Here are some additional suggestions, the legacy of the late Abner J. Apthorp, an expert at beating the heat until he overdid it; take off your necktie and if anyone gives you a piercing look, give him a piercing look right back. Place on your desk a small sign reading, "Please Go Away." If the man next door asks you to play a couple of sets of tennis, summon the constabulary; obviously the man is deranged by the heat. If your wife becomes sarcastic about the condition of the lawn, ask her which she values most, you or the lawn.

Experimenting still further with beating the heat one day when the temperature and the humidity both were pushing 100, Apthorp rented a walk-in freeze box and walked in. That was two years ago and he's still there—fourth hook from the door.

Resolution for Washington

BEFORE Theodore G. Bilbo is mercifully forgotten as an element in national politics, Washington owes itself a resolution:

That the late senator from Mississippi, having threatened to haunt the national capital in the event of his death;

And that the late senator having stood for hatred between citizens of different color and religion; unreasonable fears; bigotry willing to destroy the republic to satisfy itself; and the persistent heckling of all men who have seen the vision of human equality and believed in it;

And that the capital having shuddered with misgivings when Bilbo first reached it in 1935, aforesaid misgivings having been fully justified by his activities during more than a decade of disservice to the spirit of human dignity;

It does therefore resolve that if his spirit returns it will be scotched mercilessly on the first and every subsequent manifestation.

Fans Bearing Gifts

HERO worship is being carried to fantastic extremes these days at some of the major league baseball parks. There was a time when an outstanding baseball player would be honored by an assemblance of fans who would give him a suitcase or a genuine pigskin wallet. Nowadays that wouldn't even be a starter.

At a recent "day" honoring Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox, here's what he received: a Cadillac sedan, a 5,000-watt power unit, a tract of 12 lots on the Los Angeles shortline, a one-ton truck, a tractor with mower and harrow, a sterling silver service, a portable bowling alley, a solid gold razor, a mink stole for Mrs. Doerr, a bicycle and a hamper of toys for his son and assorted furniture, clocks and odds and ends. Estimated value: $25,000.

The salaries of players so lavishly honored frequently are well up in five figures. That the fans, not one in 1,000 of whom is paid as much, see fit to honor their heroes with such lavish handouts is a tribute to their skill, vigor and personality. But it must make Cy Young, Ty Cobb, George Sisler and some of the other old-time stars wonder a bit.

The Secret Weapon

News that United States garlic production this year will reach 19,400,000 pounds is rather appalling. A few clicks of the slide-rule show that's 9,700 tons—enough to fill 200 freight cars or taint 140,000,000 breaths for 87 days.

The allium sativum, or garlic bulb, should be used most sparingly in coking. It has been said there's no such thing as a little garlic. In fact, one salad recipe says, "Walk through the kitchen with a newly-cut garlic bulb. Pause briefly about five feet from the salad, then take the garlic out of the room."

The cook who uses garlic has a secret weapon. It is the atom bomb of some European schools of cuisine. Like Bikini, an area which has been subjected to a garlic bombardment is decontaminated slowly. When subjected to the neutralizing effects of sen-sen and cloves, garlic stands up and fights.

Picture if you can 19,400,000 pounds of the stuff. That would not only reach to high heaven. It would smell there, too.

It Comes in Packages

IT WAS only a matter of time until they got around to selling packaged baseball. Under a new arrangement made by the National league Braves, Bostonians, for an outlay of $4.50 per customer, may have dinner at a leading hotel, take a taxi to the ball park, have a reserved seat at the game and go home by taxi.

However, this new idea will help only at the boxoffice, not in the league standings. What many a club still needs is an aggressive shortstop who can bat .290 and go to his right for hot grounders.

Western Internationalism

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Isolationism Grows Weaker Beyond Rockies.

SALT LAKE City, Aug. 23 — A visit to one of the states west of the Rockies has once more driven home to this observer the active interest of the Far West in international affairs. New York and New England have always considered the Far West to be opposed to involvements in Europe and Asia. Perhaps that was because the intense nationalist William Randolph Hearst, lives out here. Perhaps it was because of the fight carried on by Senators Johnson and Borah against the League of Nations. And it was in the Far West that Woodrow Wilson danced out the last ounces of his energies on behalf of the League.

But if western isolationism was the rule 25 years ago, it certainly is not now. Everywhere I found people talking about where prospective candidates for the presidency stand on international affairs. As indicated in previous columns written on this trip, interest out here is concentrating on Vandenberg, Stassen, Baldwin of Connecticut and California's Governor Warren. The views of these men are vigorously supported. The Marshall plan is assayed with some reservations. But that is because Asia and the Pacific, more than Europe, are in the public mind. Suspicion of Russian intentions is about what it is everywhere else, although Henry Wallace's conciliatory speeches drew large crowds and a good many supporters. The Far West is for getting on in and with the world.

Viewed on Global Scale

One of the reasons behind this concern in foreign relations is not new. The great Pacific world has always figured heavily in the interests, plans and calculations of the Coast states. Even the stalwart Hiram Johnson recognized the vast interests of this country in the Far East. His fear was of European entanglements. The Far West sees foreign affairs on a global scale, and viewed on a globe, Europe is the tail of the monstrous land mass of Asia. A vast commerce with the East has always been the dream of our Pacific seaports.

These seaports grew enormously during the second World war. Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland, San Diego and the Bay region still teem with activity. The Navy has major installations up and down the coast. New industries born of the war are intent not only on survival but on greater development.

Another factor in far-western interest in foreign affairs is Russian expansion and the diplomatic friction which has developed since the war. The Coast states are not unaware of the great land-bridge which stretches from Siberia to North America. Once, in the far-distant past, Russians came over that bridge and moved almost as far south as Sacramento. Tsarist Russia moved back and freely relinquished Alaska to us. But the possibility of the use of that bridge in war is a frequent subject of speculation.

A Revealing Tour

One of the armed services recently took some newspaper men and others on an air tour of the many vital centers of industry and military power in the state of Washington alone. It was an impressive and thought-provoking trip which revealed the serious possibilities of attack from the North and East. The Far West knows very well that in another war the attack may fall there, rather than on the Eastern Coast.

Beyond all these factors is the active intellectual and cultural concern of the far-western states in world affairs. There are innumerable institutes and the like studying many aspects of international problems. The big institutions of higher learning are bulging with courses on foreign affairs.

America's new role in the world is well embedded in far-western thinking. Such isolationism as once flourished here is gone—perhaps forever.

Just a Minute

By JACK TARVER

It's an Ill Austerity . . .

Faced with an unprecedented economic crisis, Britain has placed a ban on the importation of American juke-boxes.

John Bull apparently is hampered not only by a shortage of dollars, but also of nickels.

The British are making a great effort to trade entirely within the empire. And while England boasts no juke-box industry of its own, a Scotch inventor is reported hard at work on a tin-in-the-slot bagpipe.

The order is only a minor phase of the austerity program. But it doubtless will prove a major contribution to the noise-abatement campaign.

And there is always the possibility that, in the strange, new quiet which will follow the ban, one of Britain's din-weary thinkers will come up with a solution to the empire's woes.

Meanwhile, in this country, there's an old song hit which, with a little revision, will be a natural for Frankie-boy . . . namely, "I Can Do Without Britain, But Can Britain Do Without Me?"

Who's Telling Whom?

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THESE are not the right kind of days for a row, certainly not under these New England maples where life seems eternally just right. Up here in Sandisfield, world confusions have in no manner obtruded themselves upon my neighbors, who are mightily puzzled that no matter how much stone they pull out of the ground, more stone appears after each frost.

Nevertheless, I cannot avoid wondering how the other half lives, so I read "The Daily Worker." That keeps me informed about the doings of Henry Wallace and Vito MacCantonio and why the United States isn't any good. I can't help thinking as I sit up here, near the Burgoyne trail where the French and Indian war was fought and not far from the road that General Knox cut thru the forest to bring the artillery from Fort Ticonderoga to Boston in the Revolutionary war, that if I thought as badly of this country as those who write for "The Daily Worker" do I would get me a one-way ticket to some other place.

Be that as it may, I find in the sheet before me an article by David Platt on Jimmy Cagney whom I, like millions of other Americans, have enjoyed in the movies. It seems that Cagney is producing a movie based on Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life." Why Cagney does this is his business, but Platt seems to feel that Cagney is spoiling Saroyan, which must be hard to do.

Anyhow, according to Platt, at a recent P. C. A. meeting in Los Angeles, Paul Draper, who dances fancifully, sometimes even to the accompaniment of a harmonica, notified the reds and pinkos there assembled that Cagney is a bad boy because he is distorting Saroyan. It seems that Draper was ordered to substitute Stalin for Hitler in a line, on account of Hitler being dead and they are two of a kind, and there is no use talking about a ghost. Draper danced an objection and somebody proposed that Molotov's name be used.

But, this also according to Platt, somebody called Sidney Bernstein, who belongs to an English outfit run by J. Arthur Rank, told Draper ". . that his organization would refuse to handle a film which had a line in it offensive to the Soviet Union. He said further that if 'The Time of Your Life' was released with either the name of Stalin or Molotov in it, it would do practically no business anywhere in Europe."

Settled on Kilroy

In other words, Draper makes the point which Platt repeats and which I pass along as Platt's, that Bernstein undertook to veto an American film on behalf of an English outfit for political reasons. Jimmy Cagney, who seems in the films to be a tough baby, didn't slap down Draper, Bernstein, et al, because business is business and maybe this Bernstein really has the lowdown on what's what in the film business. So, anyhow, they canned Hitler, Stalin and Molotov and stuck in the name Kilroy—an anonymous guy, who can't veto anything.

But, says Platt, that ain't all. Cagney, being shrewd, two-timed Draper, Bernstein and even Platt and made two versions, one for this country using Molotov and one for Europe using Kilroy. So the Europeans will wonder who is this Kilroy and they will reach the conclusion that he must be a big shot, running for vice president like Harold Stassen.

Platt wants "a contemporary reactionary or fascist." Now, who do you think that contemporary reactionary or fascist would be? Maybe they would say Rankin, because when the commies can't think of anyone else to knock down, they call whomever they dislike Rankin, which has become a trademark with them. Of maybe they would say Harry Truman, because I read another piece in which they are demanding that the Democrats should not run him for president but instead should take on Henry Wallace, who is more pleasing, they say.

Anyhow, it is all right to make fun of any American — but not Molotov. Soon we shall have a censorship in Hollywood to make sure that nobody hurts the feelings of the 40 or 50 members of UN. Only American feelings are to be hurt.

Senators at Large

Utilizing Experience of Former Presidents.

SENATOR BREWSTER has proposed in congress that the experience of former presidents be utilized by appointing them senators at large to sit as advisory members without votes.

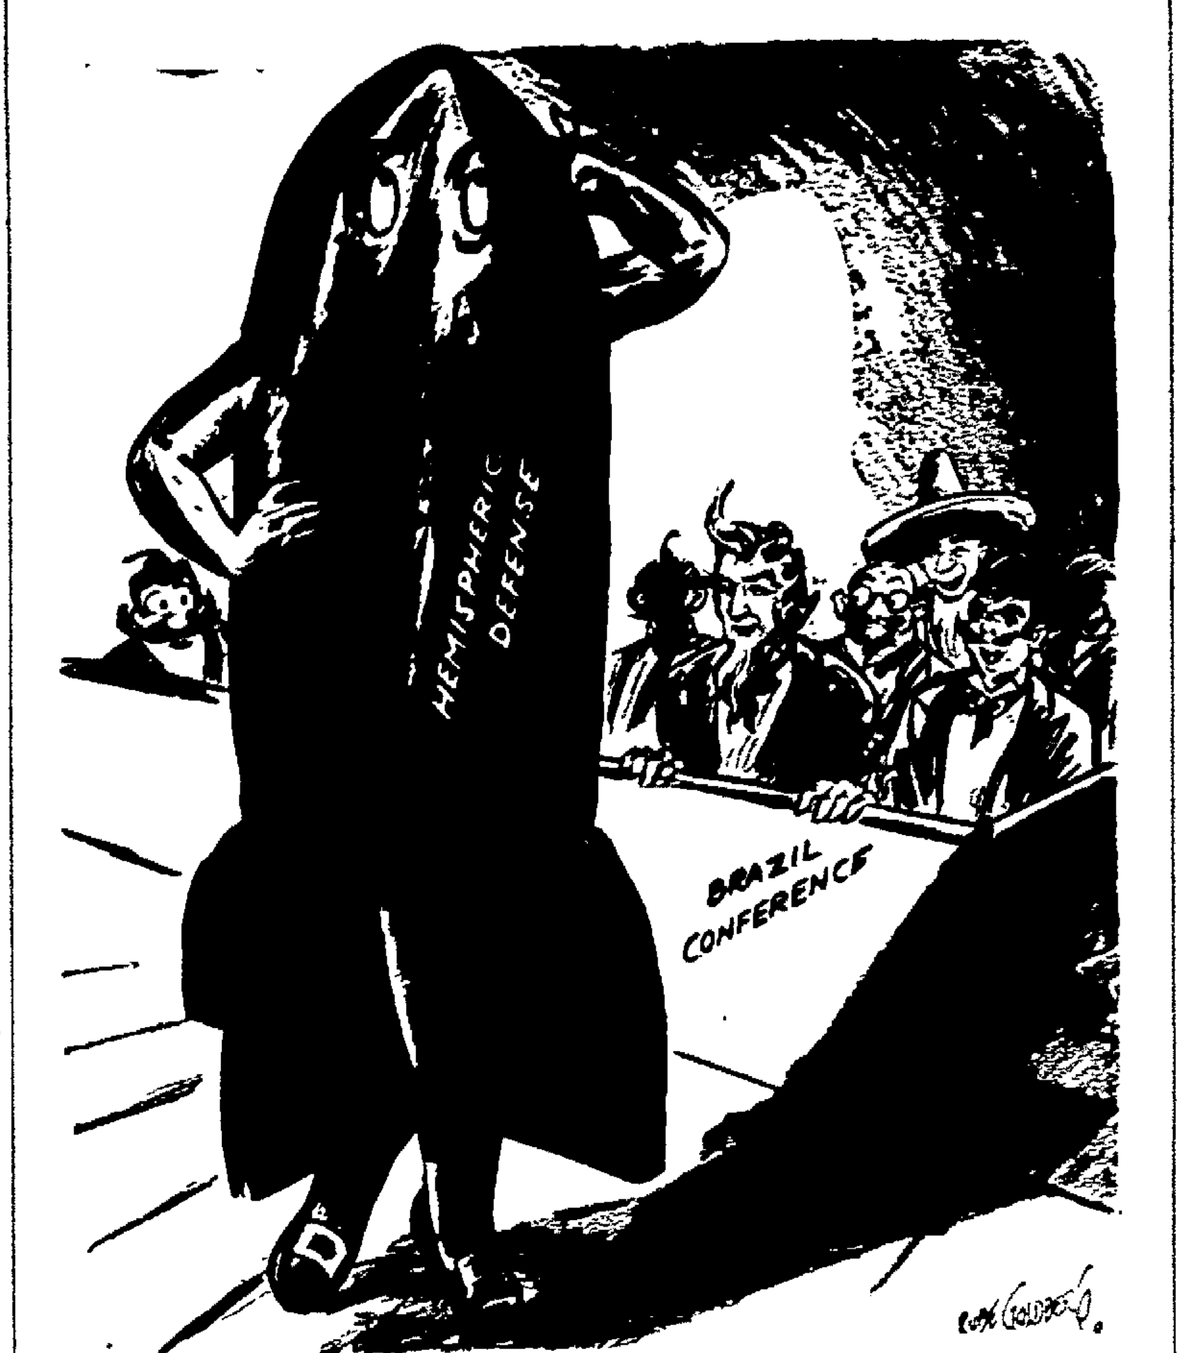
Only twice in our history have we been without a living former president, the senator points out, and some of them have been financially embarrassed in their declining years. In addition they find themselves out of things and without even a forum in which to make their opinions known.

One former president, John Quincy Adams, returned to serve 18 years in the House and in some respects his service as a congressman overshadows his work as president. Andrew Johnson came back to the senate after serving as president and heard apologies from many who had voted to impeach him. In 1861, we had five living former presidents, Van Buren, Fillmore, Tyler, Pierce and Buchanan, who as one writer puts it, "stood around unable to be of use to a nation that had never been in a worse way for sound advice."

Conditions have changed since those days, of course. When Grover Cleveland was cited as a former president whose services were never utilized Senator Barkley said, "If Cleveland had been sent to Washington as a sort of ex-officio, roving senator during the long years he lived after retiring from the White House, he would have lowered his own dignity and in a way cheapened his influence with the country.

"He was free to speak and write. Whatever he said was read by the people. . . It was done in a dispassionate way. Every utterance of an ex-officio senator would be construed in the light of his senatorship, and not simply because he was an ex-president, free from the turmoil of senatorial debate, free from the political clashes which take place here and which sometimes even weaken our own influence and our own standing among our constituents."

INTER-AMERICAN BEAUTY QUEEN



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Aug. 23, 1937.

The annual hobby show opened with displays in store windows throughout the business district. Arden Millisor was president of the Hobby club sponsoring the event.

John Thomas Farr, 42, of Detroit was instantly killed by electric shock while working on a power line near Marysville.

Thomas A. Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Baldwin of 196 East Washington avenue was promoted to corporal at the Fort Benjamin Harrison citizens' military training camp.

Virgil F. Dye, manager of Hotel Harding, was named a member of the committee planning the annual golf tournament of the Ohio Hotels association at Toledo.

Doris Oesterle, 15, of Green camp was chosen the county's healthiest 4-H club girl.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, Aug. 23, 1927.

Reports from different sections of the state summerized by the state health department listed 141 infantile paralysis cases in Ohio.

A check on traffic made by the corn borer patrol showed that Marion county was one of the principal automobile traffic centers of the state. The report for the first 15 days of August showed that 46,625 motor vehicles traveled south over eight main highways in the county.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klingel of Waldo.

The program committee for the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs met at the home of Mrs. John McNamara of Courtland avenue and talked over arrangements for opening the club season Oct. 4 at Hotel Harding. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Sam Rosenberg, Mrs. C. B. Russell, Miss Jean Freer and Miss Philomen Gregg.

Flies 6,000 Miles To Pay 90-Cent Debt

By The Associated Press

COPENHAGEN — Eighty-one-year-old Peter Jensen Kjeldsen of Sufria, Wis., recently made a 6,000-mile air trip to pay a debt of less than one dollar contracted more than 30 years ago.

Jensen told reporters he had come by air from the States to find a waiter from whom in 1916 he borrowed four kroner (about 90 cents).

"I left for America completely forgetting my debt," Jensen said.

Speed, Brother, Speed!

By FRANK TRIPP

THIS is the story of a speed mania that started 50 years ago. Back in the 90's, when bicycles seemed numerous as flies, pedestrians vowed them a menace and cycling cops stalked the streets in search of scorchers.

Scorcher was the name given a reckless cyclist who had inverted ram's horn handlebars, pointed downward so the rider's body was about level with the road — the first streamlining to reduce wind resistance; also to give more powerful leverage in the pedals. A rider in that position could get a good look ahead only now and then by raising his head to an awkward angle. Most of the time his eyes were fixed to the spot where his front wheel contacted the road, dodging stones, ruts and obstacles. These speeders were the terrors of the streets, cycling paths and city sidewalks, which, for a license fee, they could use. Although none but champions could exceed 25 miles an hour and few could better 15 for more than a city block, there were plenty of pedestrians bumped into the ditch.

That misuse of the bicycle created the first speed hazard on the highways of America; save drunken drivers of lathered horses. Both of these nuisances were quite summarily dealt with and everybody, including sane cyclists and horsemen, joined heartily in helping bring them to justice.

Then came the automobile. At first it couldn't dependably average the speed of a bicycle. It made so much noise that only the blind and deaf were in danger. Its early victims were mainly dogs and chickens. Finally dogs learned to snap at the rear wheel rather than the head lamps and hens taught their chicks when to cross the road—something skunks and woodchucks haven't learned yet—also some people.

Pioneer motorists, abroad in open cars, linen dusters, goggles and gauntlets; equipped with a machine shop and a vulcanizing plant on the running board, had a dull Sunday if some farmer didn't snap a whip at them as they passed his frightened team or some kid didn't turn a hose into the car. It was more a case of the automobile escaping if it could wheeze that long, than the populace doing a Charleston to save its neck.

As time went on and cars quieted, speeded up and got cheaper, everybody and his uncle finally got one. The sisters and the cousins and the aunts bought up the used ones until there's hardly room on the roads for them, two abreast, if they all turned out at the same time. Where do you plan to hide for safety when the assembly lines get humming? Put me wise; I want to hole in with you. But on with the sermon:

A man killed by accident is just as dead as the victim of a premeditated homicide. From society's standpoint the difference is that everybody would help prevent a homicide but few help bring potential highway murderers to halt. Until this changes, enforcement of speed laws will prevail only among the few that traffic officers can catch and thousands of lives, maybe your kid's, will be snuffed out.

It should not be unpopular or unusual for a citizen to report the name or license number of a driver who puts lives and property in jeopardy. The State would do well to make it easy for one to do this. What if now and then a report results from a grudge? So do reports of crime in general, still police plead for help from the people. Most motorists want to be safe drivers. Many who may cause a death would be saved their anguish by warnings—others by knowledge that their habits were known to the authorities.

Then there's the stubborn fellow who demands his road rights regardless, won't give an inch, 'cause the law is with him. Like the late Mr. Gray whose headstone proclaims: "Here lies the body of Simeon Gray who died maintaining his right of way; he was right, as he sped along, but he's just as dead as if he'd been dead wrong."

Case History

Some Details of Row Betwen Mar Commission and State and Commerce Departments.

By Joseph and Stewart Alsc

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—If you want a history of what is wrong with the Am can government, consider the row between U. S. maritime commission and the state commerce departments. The cause of the c baloo is the maritime commission's hanker toss the policy of the United States of Am into the waste-basket in order to gratify smooth lobbyists who infest its corridors.

On Aug. 15, the maritime commission's c man, Admiral W. W. "Poko" Smith, se telegram to every company chartering go ment-owned ships. This means practically entire shipping industry. The telegram nounced that all charters on these ships to be canceled as of Aug 31. Charterers of ernment vessels were to be allowed to carry subject to conditions to be announced . The main condition was to be an increase in charter rate—the rate which private ship pay to the government for the Liberty, Vic and other ships which they operate.

The intention was to force many of the c tered ships off the seas, and thus increase the rates. Shipping rates began to slump this sp and have gone well below their highest w Some shippers have been, indeed, operating loss. But this has been largely a paper Under the maritime commission contract the shippers, the U. S government has in e been underwriting 90 per cent of any opera loss in most cases.

EVEN so, the shipping companies have no joyed the new low rates. Frazer Ba president of the National Federation of Am can Shippers, forcibly brought this fact hom Smith and the other spavined political who compose the maritime commission. The sult was the Aug. 15 telegram, which was patched without consulting any policy-ma American official.

The innocent sounding telegram attracted tle attention at first. Then, as officials n state and commerce departments began to s its real meaning, the storm clouds bega gather about good old "Poko's" head. The perts were of the unanimous opinion that ing freight rates and forcing many Amer ships off the seas would result in downrigh aster.

As far as domestic policy is concerned, move would have an inflationary effect. The ministration is of course committed to a b against inflation. But its impact on Amer policy aboard would be a great deal more ious. A very high proportion of the do spending of the western European countries to paying for the shipping which carries w they must buy here to home ports. Before rate slump for example, of every $20 wh th French or Italians paid for the desperately ne ed coal, an average of $12 went for carrying coal across the ocean. The proportion of tra port charges on wheat and other bulk carg was not much less. Thus it is hardly surpris that unofficial but nevertheless exceedin plaintive Macedonian cries were instantly er ted by both the French and the British American representatives in Paris and Lond

ANOTHER sufferer from the order would tainly have been the maritime comm itself. Something very like chaos already re at the commission.

The business of canceling and re-issuing c ters would have made the chaos complete.

Consider this story, and you will observe the case history contains every element w prevents American governmental efficie First, there is patronage. In its wartime g as the war shipping board, under Admiral E Land and Captain Granville Conway, the c mission was a model of efficiency. Pres. Truman actually promised to name Con chairman in succession to Land. But the p chieftains, with their incessant clamor for and patronage, changed his mind. The resu the present body.

Then, to patronage, add special interest p sure. The influence of the big shipping pe in the commission's passion for restricting nage and raising rates is only too obvious would, indeed, respect the whole transac more, if there were any evidence that the c mission had yielded for some return, rather from sheer, silly flabbiness. Then, to spe interest pressure, add total lack of coor tion. A major step is taken, affecting all po without so much as notifying the policy-ma Such are the elements of our difficulties.

There is reason to believe that Smith and colleagues have now been badgered and be into reversing their stand. This presum proves the rule that we always save ourse in the end. It would be cheaper, however begin a little sooner.

Healing the Tensions of Life

A Sermonette

By REV. HENRY SCHAEFFER, Ph.D.
Pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church

Mark 7:34-35: "He said to him, Be opened. And his ears were opened, his tongue was released, and he spoke plainly."

THE first word which is ascribed to God in the Bible is, "let there be light." The light is separated from the darkness. Order is brought out of confusion or chaos. Vegetation carpets the land which has been separated from the abysmal waters. Living creatures appear in the sea, on land and in the air. Last of all a creature appears, capable of entering into fellowship with God. But this fellowship can be marred or even broken by disobedience to the will of God.

How order can be brought out of the chaos or confusion of human living is answered by the obedience of Abraham and the religion of the prophets. In the fullness of time Jesus came to re-establish the divine order of things, to fill life with a new content, to supply what is amiss, and to heal the tensions of life.

What do we mean by tensions? A tension is anything that has been stretched or strained beyond normal proportions. When this happens to our muscles and emotions we speak of stiff muscles and tense feelings. Tensions are caused by physical strain whether at work or play. People unaccustomed to athletic exercise know what we mean by tense muscles a day or two after a picnic. Travelers climbing up the pyramid of Cheops in Egypt or to some mountain top in our own country long remember the after-effects of such an experience. Other parts of the body, such as the throat or tongue may become sore or strained, not only by a rapid change of temperature but also by an improper use of the same.

The deaf and dumb man in our gospel lesson had an impediment in his speech. Possibly the man had lost his speech and his hearing through an illness of some kind, such as a nervous breakdown or a stroke. At any rate Jesus restores the man's speech and his hearing by asking him aside from the multitude. He then laid His fingers into his ears and touched his tongue. Looking up to heaven for divine power to heal the man, Jesus sighed as he thought of the unnatural strain and the tensions of these physical organs, and said to him, Be opened.

This command of Jesus is addressed not only to the faculty of hearing and speaking but to the whole man—body, mind, soul. He is no ordinary healer. He is vastly more. He has a saving gospel to proclaim which is to heal the entire personality.

It is this gospel, with its divine justice tempered with forgiving love, which can heal the tensions of life. What are some of the tensions that need to be healed in our own lives?

Physical strains and tensions can be healed by a rest period or vacation. But more often than not, strains and tensions are not merely physical. They may also be mental and emotional.

Mental strains may be caused by severe intellectual effort or exertion, by close application to present tasks or by worry. The best cure for worriment of any sort is to remember what Jesus says in Matthew 6 about the birds of the air, the lilies of the field, and God's providential care of His children who believe in Him and trust Him amid the perplexities of life. We all need more faith in the Fatherhood of God and in the sustaining power of His grace.

Most of the tensions of life are caused by strong emotional excitement. All conflicts, whether between individuals or racial groups, are more emotional than intellectual. If people stopped to think, misunderstandings, dissensions, feuds and even wars would in many cases disappear altogether. The advice sometimes given but rarely followed, is always wholesome: count fifty or a hundred before saying what you want to say when you are emotionally upset; by that time the mind and the will, or better yet, our religion may be in control of the situation.

What the shock-absorber is to the autoist, religion is to the tensions of life. It can remove them by absorbing them, so that they can do no further harm.

Let Christ heal the tensions of your life—physical, mental, moral and spiritual. He still demands open ears and hearts to hear and understand the gospel. We think we hear the gospel whenever it is proclaimed, but do we really hear and obey it? May Christ touch our ears and tongues, so that they may be attuned to His will, for only in this way can the tensions of life be healed.

Let us cultivate the upward look as a means of overcoming the tensions of everyday life. God will hear our prayers and the fetters of our lives will drop like chains from our bodies, from our minds and soul.

Baptist Youth Camp Planned

15 Churches To Take Part in Outing Program Set for Aug. 29-31.

Plans are nearly completed for a Baptist Youth camp for members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Marion association, Rev. Lester R. Kidd of Green Camp, announced today. Rev. Kidd is director of the association's Youth Fellowship organization.

Fifteen churches of the association will take part in the camp, which will be held at Camp John A. Owens, Aug. 29-31, inclusive. Registration will open at 3 p. m. on Friday, Aug. 29 for those members 12 years old and older.

Rev. Kidd announced that Rev. J. B. Holloway of Marion Trinity church will be in charge of evangelism; Miss Ruth Dreyer, president of the Youth Fellowship of the association, and Rev. Robert Maugans of Marion Fite Memorial church, will direct music; Rev. Lowell Parish of LaRue will have charge of recreation; Rev. Long of Prospect, Bible teacher; Rev. Donald Hibbs of Richwood and Rev. Larry Chapman of Ostrander, instructors of methods; vesper and morning watch services will be directed by Rev. George Reed of Springdale, Rev. Clarence Mathews of Wyandot, and Rev. Kidd.

The concluding service at 3 p. m. Sunday will be in charge of Rev. Thomas of the Bucyrus Baptist church.

All pastors of the association are assisting in the arrangements for the camp.

Women of Trinity, Grand Prairie, LaRue and Green Camp churches will be in charge of the entertainment and the kitchen.

Youth for Christ Program Planned

Arrangements are being made for the August Marion Youth for Christ meeting for next Saturday night, with a musical program scheduled.

The meeting will be held at the Masonic hall, and opening song service will be led by Rev. R. A. Maugans, pastor of Fite Memorial Baptist church. Musicians from Altoona, Pa., the Berschab quartet of the Altoona Youth for Christ will present several numbers. Woody Newman, a member of the group, will give a special message.

The service will be in charge of Dr. C. E. Hershey, director of the local Youth for Christ movement.

COLUMBUS RATIONS GAS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 23—Voluntary gasoline rationing by filling stations spread through Columbus today as operators cut the hours of pump operations or shortened the sales week. Slashes in wholesale supplies, ranging up to 10 per cent, made the piecemeal rationing necessary, they said.

The world's first electrically run railroad train was operated in the United States in 1887.

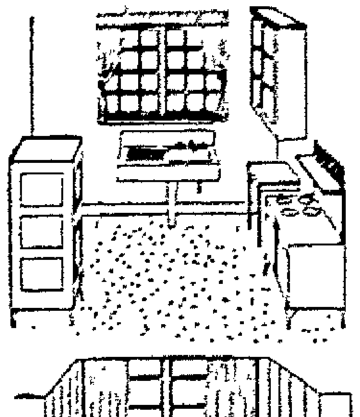
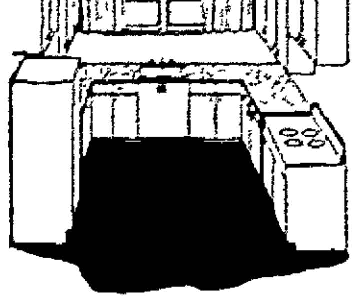
Tests Show Modernizing Rooms in Home Makes Big Cut in Housework

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

by W. Wadsworth Wood

The two illustrations shown are typical of the improvement that can be made in any room of the house by modernizing or streamlining. In the first picture, you see a typical old-fashioned kitchen which has no particular coordination of equipment, and likewise requires a great amount of back-bending effort to keep clean and orderly. The second picture shows an identical room after it has been modernized. There is no change in the dimensions or in the placing of the equipment but the ease with which the room can be kept in order is quite obvious.





The greater part of the improvement comes from the counter-tops which connect the fixtures, obviating steps in preparing a meal. The next great improvement comes from the fact that there are no places left which the housewife must clean beneath. Everything is enclosed and built down to floor level presenting a definite and easily cleaned floor surface. The next improvement is obvious in the many and well-placed wall cabinets which can accommodate every pot pan and cooking utensil, so that the room will always be orderly.

Every room in the house is subject to the same treatment as the kitchen. Living rooms, bedrooms and bathrooms may be smoothed out and made easier to keep in proper shape by modernizing the room plan.

A short time ago, one of the largest hotels in the country made an experiment by modernizing the furniture and equipment on three of the floors. The result showed that the rooms could be put in order in 20 per cent less time than it required to make up a room which had not been planned with a definite idea of saving housekeeping effort.

Fire a Major Cause Of Housing Shortage

By International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—Percy Bugbee, head of the National Fire Protection Association, said today Americans are burning more houses than they're building and blamed fire for a good part of the housing shortage.

Bugbee predicted that record-breaking fire losses this year will total seven hundred million dollars.

Nine out of 10 home fires, the NFPA chief says, are preventable. He added that the country needs one million and a half more dwellings, but half a million go up in smoke yearly.

RAIL CAR RENTAL RAISED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—The Association of American Railroads announced yesterday that the daily rental paid by railroads for use of freight cars owned by other lines will be raised from $1.25 to $1.50 effective.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Paper on Plasterboard

Q.: There are several thicknesses of wallpaper on the plasterboard ceilings, bedrooms and hall. It is almost impossible to get the paper off, as I tried it and had to give it up. Could paper be plastered over, or is there some paint that would hide the defects?

A.: You may be able to remove the paper if you are careful not to soak with too much water. Some must be used to soften the wallpaper paste, so that the paper can be pulled and scraped off with a putty knife. Too much water may loosen the paper envelop of the plasterboard. Taking off the paper will leave a rough surface on the board. To smooth this, let it dry thoroughly, and then apply a thin coat of shellac. After this has dried, rub lightly with a medium coarse sandpaper wrapped around a block of wood. The shellac will hold the fibres stiff, so that the sandpaper will cut them off. Without the shellac, the soft fibres would be torn. Plaster cannot be applied over wallpaper. Textured wall paint can be used, if you like that kind of wall finish.

Sweating Walls

Q.: We have a one-story frame house with plastered walls. We would like to know what makes the walls sweat. We have a hot-air furnace with a register in each room and a cold-air register in the living-room and kitchen. Should each bedroom have a cold-air, too? Our heat seems to stay in the cellar.

A.: Sweating may be due to lack of sufficient heat or excessive humidity in the house air. The latter might be minimized by shutting off the humidifier at the furnace. A leaflet sent to you on condensation (sweating) may help you further. It should not be necessary to have cold-air returns in all rooms, unless those already in place are not large enough. Have a competent heating man check this for you. Cellar should not be hot.

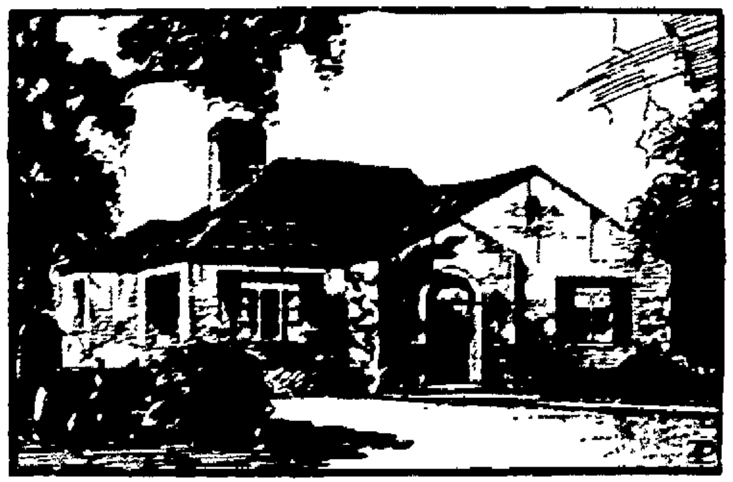
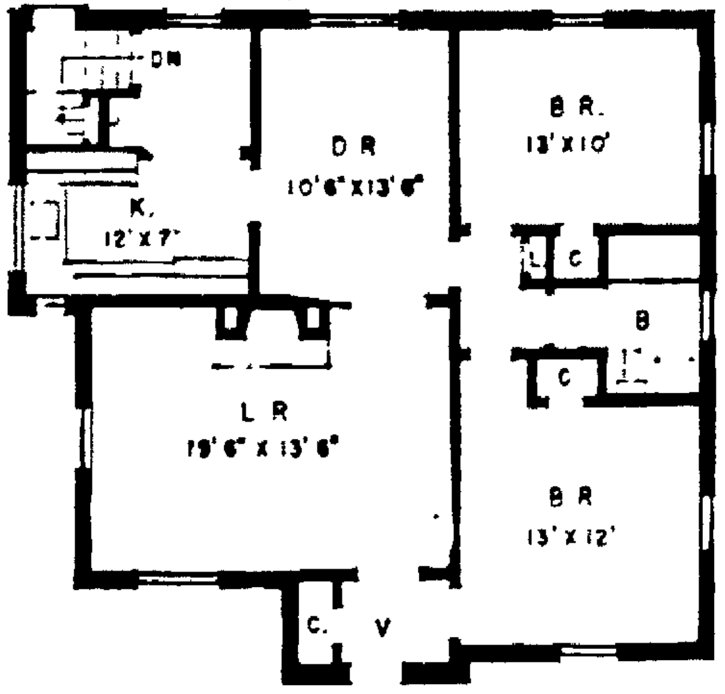
Stiffening Limp Rug

Q: My two summer woven sisal rugs are soft and limp from shampooing. They still have their color and are otherwise in good condition. Is there any preparation to apply to the backs to stiffen them, doing the work at home?

A: Dissolve powdered glue in soft water heated to 140 degrees, in the proportion of three-fourths of a pound of glue to the gallon of water. For easy softening, the glue should be stirred into the water slowly. After dissolving, let the mixture stand for an hour or two and then bring it slowly to a boil. Stir in two ounces of castor oil in a gallon of the mixture. Lay the cleaned rug (clean on both sides) upside down, holding it flat with a few tacks driven lightly through it into the floor, which should be protected with papers (Better do the job in the attic.) Apply the size with a bristle brush, and let the rug remain in place until dry. Some rugs can be stiffened more easily by facing the under side with oilcloth, carefully stitched, the shiny side being placed next to the floor.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS





By The Associated Press

Functional describes this house, simple in layout with no wasted rooms and plain in design with no unnecessary frills to add to cost. Planned by Elmer Gylleck, architect, 120½ South Grove avenue, Elgin, Ill., as his design 5R-25, the house has 22 000 cubic feet with full basement. The plan is flexible. For three bedrooms put a door between living room and kitchen, making dining room into bedroom. For a basementless house, rear stair hall becomes utility room.

LABOR DEPT. SAYS HOUSING BOOM ON

Reports Biggest of Any Summer in History.

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—The nation is in the midst of the biggest summer housing boom in its history, the labor department said this week.

It said that more homes and apartments are being built more rapidly this summer—usually the low period of the year in starting housing construction—than during any period since the war.

Ewan Clague, director of the department's bureau of labor statistics, told a news conference that most of the 80,000 dwelling units started in July should be ready by November because of better delivery of materials and increased labor efficiency. He said the building boom was one result of the record-breaking peacetime employment of more than 60,000,000 persons.

He said congressional approval of "voluntary" rent increases had encouraged apartment building. Clague said that a shift to building rental houses began in July. He said a recent survey of rents showed home ownership in some big cities to have risen to 60-70 per cent of total housing. Pre-war home ownership was rarely above 40 per cent, he said.

Clague said better delivery of materials had cut the time for completing a house from six to three months, the pre-war figure.

He said total construction employment reached 1,800,000 last month.

17 TO 42. George Mikszan, 17, and his 42-year-old bride-elect, Mrs. Alice B. Thompson, who was recently divorced, sit on front steps of Pittsburgh home to plan their wedding. A packing house worker, Mrs. Thompson has known George since his birth, and the two have roomed at the same home.

Legion Auxiliary Gets Girls' State Report

Miss Joan Anderson of West Church street, who represented the Auxiliary to Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, at Girls' State in Columbus recently, gave a report of her trip and activities during the week there at a meeting of the auxiliary Friday night in the Legion Dugout.

A report was made by Mrs. Curtis Laubner on the state convention held recently in Cincinnati. Plans were made for a potluck supper Sept. 8 at the Dugout, at which time election of officers will be held.

Couple in Fatal Auto Wreck Leave Hospital

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 23—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beck were released from City hospital, early Friday morning. They were injured last Sunday afternoon in a head-on automobile collision at the crest of a knoll four miles south of Galion when Reuben Emerson Smith, 32, and his two sons, Walter Gene, 6, and Kenneth Lee, 9, were killed.

Mrs. Lillian Smith, 27, wife of Mr. Smith, and her four-year-old son, Harold Wayne Smith, and a brother of Mr. Smith, John Elmer Smith, 24, remain as patients at City hospital, all showing improvement.

Flushing Man Jailed On 2 Traffic Charges

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 23 — Patrick Smith, 28, of Flushing, was taken to the Crawford county jail at Bucyrus, Friday, to serve a 60-day jail sentence. He was apprehended Aug. 17 after attempting to force a car off the Bucyrus road. When given a hearing he was charged $10 in fines and $12.75 in costs and given a 30-day jail sentence in Mayor William Amann's court this week, for operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license. Earlier in the week he was fined $100 and costs and given 30-day jail sentence for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Aerial Headaches Cured by Oxygen

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Col. M. S. White, a flight surgeon finds that airplane passengers in unpressurized cabin get headaches from flying for long periods at 9,000 to 10,000 feet altitude, but that oxygen cures the headaches.

Mental alertness, he added, apparently slows somewhat at above 10,000 feet under the same conditions.

Major airlines usually fly under 9,000 feet, but go higher with pressurized cabin planes.

Writing in the Journal of Aviation Medicine, Col. White described studies of eight persons who made a round-the-world flight in 6¼ days a year ago in the Army Air Forces Air Transport Command ship "Globester."

He said that "fatigue, headaches, diminished mental activity and many other ill-defined symptoms" resulted from rapid ascent (about 900 feet per minute) to a 9,000-foot altitude. "They are frequently experienced by individuals exposed to this altitude for periods greater than four hours."

"I believe that in any prolonged flight in an unpressurized cabin plane, supplementary oxygen should be available fos passengers at altitudes as low as 8,000 feet, and oxygen should be mandatory for all passengers at altitudes of at least 10,000 feet."

Civil air regulations at present require oxygen for members of the "operating crew" of such aircraft at heights between 10,000 and 12,000 feet and stipulate that an "adequate supply" of oxygen must be available for passengers when the plane flies above 12,000.

New Chemical Paint Is Fatal to Roaches

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Gaston Johnston, an ex GI, of New York city, has made a paint that kills roaches.

It is brushed on floors or other places where roaches appear and dries to a varnish-like hardness. Johnston, a chemist says it lasts about six months, and that it kills roaches that walk on it anytime during that period.

The varnish can be washed off with water but he says it requires hard scrubbing. He reports that the varnish contains a nerve poison that paralyzes cockroaches and does not harm other animals in the concentration used for the roaches.

Johnston produced the roach varnish as a result of an appeal from his sister Mrs. G. Dahlberg, who is in charge of a nursery at Tucson, Ariz. She had trouble with roaches and did not want to use roach poisons because of risks to the little ones. She wrote her brother here, who heads a new chemical specialty company. He said six months research produced the roach killer.

WAREHOUSE BURNS

By The Associated Press

SANDUSKY, O., Aug. 23 — A warehouse of the Aluminum and Magnesium, Inc., went up in flames yesterday and firemen said damage would reach $100,000. Although under control, magnesium continued to burn today. Water had little effect.

In ancient Egypt tax collectors had their noses cut off and were exiled for exorting from the poor.

WEST CENTER ST. GRILL UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Saratoga Sold To Former Mansfield Residents.

The Saratoga Grill, 303 West Center street, was recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peters, former Mansfield residents. The Grill had been operated for the past four and a half years by Jack Lautenslager of Forest street.

The new owners operated the Peters Inn on route 42 for more than a year. It was located between Mansfield and Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters are making plans to install a steam table so lunches can be served during the noon hour.

Former Mansfield residents, the family moved to the apartment located over the Grill.

Mr. Lautenslager's future plans are not definite.

Mrs. Arlo McKinley, 69, Of Near Kenton, Dies

Special to The Star

KENTON, Aug. 23—Mrs. Arlo McKinley, 69, of Dudley township, passed away at her home Thursday following serious illness. Mrs. McKinley was born Etta Laughrin in Hardin county on Dec. 11, 1877 and has lived here throughout her entire life.

She was married on March 4, 1898 to Arlo McKinley in Patterson and he survives with seven sons, Fred, Richard, Frank, Bobby, Curt and Ray, all of Dudley township and Bailey, of Dunkirk; four daughters, Mrs. Merle Wilcox, Pleasant township; Mrs. Richard Smith, Lynn township; Mrs. Rollin Young, Tiffin and Mrs. Roy Pfeiffer, Pleasant township; one sister, Kate Kneisley, Perry and a half brother, Park Wilson, California.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Price Funeral home with Rev. McCracken officiating and burial will be in Grove cemetery.

TAXI STRIKES CHILD

GALION, Aug. 23—Her bicycle skidding as she was making a turn in the street, Jean Sickmiller, 11, fell over and was struck by Howard E. Morrow, cab driver. Jean was treated at City hospital for a fracture of her upper left arm. Her face and right knee were bruised. She was later released to her home. Jean is the daughter of Roy Sickmiller. The accident occurred at 11 a. m., in front of 427 Harding Way West.

INJURED BY TRACTOR

BUCYRUS, Aug. 23 — Willis Brause, Sulphur Springs, was treated at City hospital Thursday for injuries received when he was pinned against a feed bin by a tractor on the farm of his son, William Brause near Sulphur Springs.

Name Koger To Judge Delaware Fair Swine

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Aug. 23 — Cecil Koger, hog buyer for Swift and Company at their Columbus plant, has been named judge of all classes of swine at the Delaware County Fair, September 15th through the 19th. Judge Koger performed in the same capacity at the 1946 Delaware event.

Placing of awards will begin at 9:00 a. m., Tuesday, September 16th, when the Berkshires, Chester-Whites, Durocs, Hampshires, Poland Chinas, and Spotted Poland Chinas will be paraded through the judging arena. The swine department of the Delaware exposition is supervised by Bert Montgomery, Ostrander, a Director of the Delaware County Agricultural Society.

2 DRIVERS FINED

BUCYRUS, Aug. 23—Two Bucyrus motorists drew reckless driving fines in mayor's court Friday. W. W. Weaver, 28, of Bucyrus, was fined $10 and costs and Charles J. Lybarger, 62, also of Bucyrus was fined the same amount when he was permitted to enter a plea to a wreckless driving charge instead of drunken driving which had previously been placed against him.

PRINTERS

cal and national officers in putting the policy into effect.

Reese J. Highfield, Akron delegate, had called for the use of intelligence during the debate on the policy Thursday. But he was absent from the convention floor when the standing vote was taken.

Highfield explained his position to a reporter today. He said the Akron printers were reluctant to sacrifice gains made over the years and would attempt to continue making contracts. If the contract violated the Taft-Hartley act because of its ban on the closed shop, he said, then the parties just would not sign the agreement.

Opposes Administration

The Akron printer expressed doubt that his group would insist on posting conditions of employment under those circumstances. Highfield is an outspoken member of the Independent group opposed to the Randolph administration.

Communism took up most of the delegates' attention yesterday. They finally endorsed a Randolph resolution saying:

"We can not accept the philosophy of Communism. We can not accept as leaders, those who associate themselves with Communism as now advocated and practiced. We rely on the democratic principles of our country and the good sense of our people to keep those principles alive and functioning."

The issue came up when Charles D. Tucker, Indianapolis, leader of the Independents, sought approval of a change in the by-laws to bar Communists from union office.

Randolph described Tucker's move as "political trickery" which would in effect lead to dictatorship in the union. The convention overwhelmingly rejected the Tucker proposal.

Akron Declares Polio "Nurses Emergency"

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Aug. 23—A "nurses emergency" was declared by local officials of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis today as the number of polio cases in Summit county reached 68 for the year.

William S. Campbell, county chairman of the foundation, in declaring the emergency obtained the assignment of six Red Cross nurses to aid in caring for local patients

Campbell said a second iron lung would be flown into Akron from Columbus as a result of the emergency. The only iron lung available in the city is being used for a nine-year-old boy now in a critical condition with a lobar form of the disease.

In addition to the 68 cases within the county, one patient from outside the county is under treatment here.

Coal was not mined commercially in the United States until 1750.

HARTLEY ASKS PROBE OF LAW BY-PASSING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—Chairman Hartley (R-NJ) of the house labor committee, co-author of the Taft-Hartley labor act, called today for a congressional investigation of "any and all efforts to by-pass the law." Hartley called AFL and CIO proposals to ignore the act "brazen effrontery."

"When the rank-and-file members understand what this law means to them," he told reporters, "there will be a revulsion against the leadership. The leaders then will be looking for every excuse under the sun to conform to its terms."

Turning to reports that several unions have expressed a determination to avoid the Taft-Hartley act, by bargaining with employers independently of the national labor relations board, Hartley declared:

"I am going to ask the joint committee to investigate any and all efforts to by-pass the law, whether by unions working alone or in conspiracy with employers. That applies both to violations of the spirit and the letter of the law."

Unions found to be by-passing the law will have no standing under it, Hartley said.

The New Jersey representative recalled attempts by some industrialists to avoid the Wagner labor act when it was first passed.

"These employers discovered they had made a bad mistake because they were depriving themselves of certain privileges," he said. "The same thing is going to happen to a lot of unions in the present situation."

Major provisions of the Taft-Hartley act became effective yesterday. Some union leaders predicted the new law will increase labor strife.

But Hartley said "the more I think over the law, the more I am convinced that it will work out beautifully."

HOUSING SHORTAGE'S END CALLED NEAR

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—Morgan L. Fitch, president of the National Association of Real Estate boards, said today the end of the nation's housing shortage is in sight.

Fitch declared, in an appraisal of the real estate outlook:

"Realtors are now facing the greatest opportunity in the history of their business.

"After years of suppressed production of the commodity that is their principal stock-in-trade, home building can go ahead unhampered.

"This means more homes, more jobs, more opportunity."

The NAREB head contended that the housing crisis, one of the knottiest of America's post-war problems, is "actually a measure of today's high standard of living—the highest in our history or in the history of any people."

Fitch, a Chicago realtor, insisted that the country never actually ran out of dwelling space. He argued:

"Our houses were not used up or destroyed during the war. On the contrary, we put them in better conditions during the war years, and we ended the war with more dwellings per thousand of population than we had at the time of Pearl Harbor—in spite of the tremendous increase in the rate of marriages and births."

Fitch explained that like the automobile producers, the housing people just haven't caught up with the great demand created by 60 million jobs and an all-time high level of earnings.

The real estate officials said that removal of government restrictions is certain to mean better values and more sales. He added:

"It means more competition—always the healthiest spur to American business and business opportunity."

Romania Signs Pact With Allies, Ending Her Part of War II

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, ROMANIA, Aug 23—The Romanian chamber of deputies, in a special meeting this morning, unanimously ratified the peace treaty with the Allied and associated nations.

Foreign Minister Gheorghe Tatarescu said the present peace treaties were but the definite form of all peace treaties of World War I

"The interval between the two wars was nothing but a long armistice," he said

"The present peace treaty puts an end to a lost war that has been waged against the will of the people," he added.

"It is the only war Romania has lost in her modern history, and the last war which has been waged by an adventurer ended in Romania becoming a beaten nation."

The treaty requires Romania, which fought World War II on the Axis side to pay Russia $300,000,000 in reparations, deprives her of Bessarabia on her eastern border, which goes to Russia, and limits her defense forces to 138,000 men in the army, navy, air force and anti-aircraft force, 15,000 tons of warships and 150 planes, 100 of combat type.

SECRETARY ASKS SHARE IN CLEVELAND ESTATE

Says Millionaire Wanted To Include Her but Daughter Overruled.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23—A middle-aged woman who said she was a private secretary to the late Frederick Holland Rose, Cleveland millionaire, asked in a court action today for a half share in his estate appraised at $471,634.

Elvira Dress, in a common pleas court suit against Mr. and Mrs Charles W. Buckett Jr, of Harrison, N. Y., said that Rose would have provided for the share in his will, but his only daughter, Mrs. Buckett, objected.

The estate of Rose, attorney, banker and industrialist, who died in January of 1946 at the age of 79, was appraised at $471,634, but Miss Dress said she believed all assets had not been included and that actually its value was at least $1,000,000 more.

Claiming she had changed her life plans to care for him and that without her he would have been "utterly alone," Miss Dress said the daughter promised her a half share in the estate.

The suit contended that Mrs. Buckett told Rose that to mention Miss Dress in the will would not be "in accord with their dignity and station"

PROTEST GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Land Owners in Summit Lake Area Meet in Grand Township.

The Scioto-Sandusky Protest Association made plans for an extensive membership drive aimed at enrolling at least 500 property owners, at a meeting Thursday night at Grand township house.

Present at the committee meeting were the association officers headed by Lewis Anderson of near Morral and members of the Marion and Wyandot county committees.

The drive to enroll land owners who will be affected by the proposed amendment to increase the purposes of the Scioto Sandusky conservancy district to include the formation of a large lake in northern Marion and southern Wyandot counties, is under the leadership of Roy Anderson of near LaRue, organization treasurer, and Lloyd Hale, Upper Sandusky, member of the Wyandot county committee.

In addition to securing a large membership in the protest organization, it was planned at the committee meeting to circulate petitions among the estimated 1,000 land owners who would be affected by the proposal, seeking signatures of those in opposition to the formation of Summit Lake.

The association plans to send a delegation of "at least 100" property owners to Columbus to the Sept. 12 hearing on the proposal to be conducted in the conservancy district court. The delegation will take with them then the signed petitions of the property owners, Mr. Anderson reported.

Funds to carry out the campaign have been donated by association members. A proposal has been suggested that land owners involved might be assessed 10 to 20 cents an acre to carry on the fight against the proposal to the courts in Columbus and Washington.

OHIO STATE FAIR COMMENCES TODAY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Aug. 23—It's Ohio state fair time again today.

The state's greatest agricultural show opened at 6 a. m. with thousands of exhibits representing Buckeye farms.

At noon, Gov. Thomas J. Herbert cut a red ribbon at the Eleventh avenue entrance to the agriculture and industry exhibition.

Junior fair judging began at 9 a. m, after months of planning and work.

Manager Edwin J. Bath predicted a record attendance

"If entries mean anything, it will be a bang-up affair," Bath declared.

He said only last-minute problems had been to obtain housing for all of the animals arriving to compete for awards, and prepare the model race track. The track was being surfaced with blacktop.

The national shows of Belgian and Percheron horses and Red Poll cattle associations are part of the fair.

The night horse show returns after having been dropped last year. The first horse show will be for western and palominos Sunday afternoon, and a full program is scheduled for six nights. Horse show classes list 341 entries

Bath estimated total value of the exhibits as $25,000,000, but said the exact number of entries and exhibits yet was unknown.

Prizes totaling more than $20,000 are offered in the 19-event harness race program beginning Monday.

Livestock premiums total $91,689; horse show prizes total $22,500.

Bath said 42 tons of DDT were applied to the 150 acre fairground last Sunday in the battle against insects.

London, Ohio, Invaded By Grasshopper Swarm

By International News Service

LONDON, O., Aug. 23—Agriculture experts fought an invasion of grasshoppers today on the Griff Wilson farm near London.

Oscar Mercer, tenant on the farm, said the insects had riddled five acres of a corn field and were spreading to an adjacent soybean field.

Alvin W. Barr, of the farm home administration, who was summoned to the scene, declared:

"We found from 12 to 24 insects on some of the corn stalks. The grasshoppers were coming from sod adjacent to the cornfield. On some of the stalks they had eaten all of the silk and were working down into the ear. This would prevent pollenation and the formation of the ear of corn."

A poison bait was being prepared in an effort to eradicate the grasshoppers. It is a sweetened bait and attracts the insects.

Greek Cabinet Falls Despite U. S. Backing

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, Aug. 23—The coalition cabinet headed by Demetrios Maximos, backed by $300,000,000 in American aid but rent by internal dissension, fell today.

The resignation of three ministers who insisted on changes in the cabinet precipitated the government's fall. Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris, just back from Washington conferences, opposed the reshuffling, contending it "would render no service whatever to the country."

Informed quarters said Maximos was drafting his cabinet's resignation for presentation to King Paul this afternoon.

tified by the strange turn of events that has disrupted the normal course of their lives, waited hopefully, but helplessly, today for some word of their daughter.

Father Keeps Up Search

Neither has had more than fitful rest since Carolyn was last seen by the mother shortly before 11 a. m. last Wednesday. The father has kept up an almost constant search of the fields and streams around the house.

Today he sat on the front porch of the farm home—waiting.

Baffled by the turn of events he said, "I can't understand how this could happen. We have always taken good care of our children and now this comes along. I can't understand it."

Three-year-old Carl Edward, who was playing with Carolyn when she disappeared, seems to view the tragedy with a seriousness beyond his years, the father said.

"He doesn't play much with the other children since Carolyn is gone," Mr. Peterson said. "So often we see him standing by the gate looking out toward the road where he last saw her.

"Last night he cried when he asked his mother why Carolyn was not in her bed."

Boy Holds to Story

Mr. Peterson said he was convinced that the boy's story that he saw a man take Carolyn is absolutely correct.

"The first day we weren't sure. But since then he always tells it the same way without any variation as to details," the father said.

The boy's story was that he saw Carolyn across from the house near the gate of a 10-acre cornfield and that a man got out of a yellow car and walked toward her.

After repeated questioning the boy always placed the car at the same spot.

"We have tried to break his story down by telling him the car was farther down the road," the father said, "but he says 'no, it was there,' always pointing to the same spot."

Carl insists Carolyn was in the cornfield and that the man went in there, too. The entrance into the corn field is directly across the highway from the gate into the barnyard at the Peterson home.

Unexplained Circumstance

Mr. Peterson says he can't explain how the child got to the cornfield gate after she was reported to have been seen about 500 feet farther south along the road by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cocherl of near Waldo. "It may be," he said, "that she turned and came back."

Mr Peterson also said he believed the theft of the child had been planned in advance by some one who had seen her playing in the yard.

POLLAK, M'ALLISTER, PHONE WIN GAMES

Whip McMillen, Standard Oil, and O.P.S.

Pollak Steel, McAllister, and Associated Telephone pounded out victories in city softball last night.

Pollak boosted their win margin with a six-run rally in the third inning in besting McMillen Feeds, 8-1. Four hits and four walks made the big inning possible. McMillen pitcher Hillis suffered a knee injury fielding a blooper near the first base line and had to be relieved in the third, after his style lost its effectiveness. The only player to garner more than one hit was Ralston, who hit twice for the Steelers

McAllister finally showed Standard Oil who's boss, defeating them, 7-4. The teams had been in the habit of playing a stubborn brand of ball that resulted in a tie when it was all over. Home runs were hit by Merchant and Dolittle of Standard Oil.

The other game of the evening was a battle of the utilities and the telephone came out on top Ohio Associated Telephone beat Ohio Public Service, 10-8. Wintersteller got a home run and Young hit twice.

The day's activity was rounded out by General Excavator forfeiting to Commercial Steel.

Mississippians Bury Senator Bilbo Today

By The Associated Press

POPLARVILLE, Miss., Aug. 23—Mississippians paid their last respects today to Sen. Theo G. Bilbo, the man to whom in life they had given more high elective offices than to any other.

Among them were many prominent in the state's political life, but with them were also many of the people who had cast the votes which had so often given "The Man" victory at the polls—the farmers and merchants of small towns over the state.

His body, which lay in state last night in the "Dream House" he had built for his declining years, was moved this morning to the church which he had fostered.

Funeral services will to be at 1 p. m. today.

I COVER A LOT OF TERRITORY ON MY PAPER ROUTE!

I have my problems just the same as you do. Some people want me to deliver their paper one place, others want it in some other location. I try to please them all.

I am a little business man, in business for myself. I buy my papers at wholesale, paying for them each week, and sell them at retail, the difference is my profit and working capital.

I am the sole judge of whom to extend credit to.

If you don't pay me, I can't pay for my papers, I lose my profit, and become discouraged.

I collect each Saturday morning, help me by paying each week and should you not be at home at my regular collection time leave your money and card where I can get it.

"Desert Fury," Technicolor Feature, on Bill at Palace

"Desert Fury," the new technicolor production hailed as one of the most unusual and fascinating love stories to be filmed in some time, opens Sunday at the Palace theater and will run through Wednesday.

Co-starred in the film, which is set against America's desert, are Lizabeth Scott, John Hodiak and Burt Lancaster. Mary Astor is featured and the film introduces to the screen Wendell Corey.

It is the tale of a notorious mother, a headstrong daughter and the gambler-killer who came between them. Lizabeth Scott plays the daughter, and in defiance of her mother, who not only runs her own gambling establishment but the town as well, becomes involved with gambler Hodiak.

Added attractions will include a Little Lulu cartoon, "The Scout with Gout," a musical in technicolor, "Smooth Sailing," and the latest news.

Thursday through Saturday a double feature, "Notorious Gentleman" and "Smash-Up"—The Story of a Woman," will be shown.

The former, starring Rex Harrison and featuring Lilli Palmer and Godfrey Tearle, is the story of a likable playboy who is constantly on the social slide because of his irresponsibility.

Susan Hayward, Lee Bowman, Marsha Hunt and Eddie Albert are the stars of the latter picture. It tells how a housewife, a talented radio singer who sacrifices her career to make her husband a success, meets and solves domestic problems.

'Calcutta' On Marion Screen

Murder Mystery Drama Main Attraction of Double Feature.

"Calcutta," a murder mystery laid in India and starring Alan Ladd, Gail Russell and William Bendix, is the main attraction of a double feature to be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion theater. Completing the billing will be "Little Mister Jim," starring "Butch" Jenkins with James Craig and Frances Gifford.

The former picture deals with the adventures of daring pilots flying the famous "hump" from Calcutta to Changking, China. Ladd plays one of these pilots. The latter is the story of an eight-year-old boy brought up on an Army post, adoring his young parents, guided in childhood by a wise Chinese houseman, and getting involved in childrenhood incidents.

Billed as a double feature for Tuesday and Wednesday are a revival production of "100 Men and a Girl" starring Deanna Durbin with Adolphe Menjou and Leopold Stokowski, and "Magnificent Obsession" with Irene Runne and Robert Taylor.

With Deanna Durbin appearing as the daughter of Adolphe Menjou, a trombonist who has not worked for two years, "100 Men and a Girl" is a comedy telling how Deanna persuades a rich woman and her husband to sponsor an orchestra composed of Menjou, Mischa Auer and 98 others. In "Magnificent Obsession," which is also a revived film version, Robert Taylor plays the role of a young spendthrift who is indirectly responsible for the death of a physician.

Adele Mara, William Marshall and Ricardo Cortez are the starring players in the exciting murder mystery, "Blackmail," which will be shown along with "Trigger Fingers" through Saturday.

The former picture tells of a group of smart operators in the blackmailing business who finally outsmart themselves. "Trigger Fingers" stars Johnny Mack Brown, with Raymond Hatton and Jennifer Holt.

"RICHEST" WOMAN DIES

By The Associated Press

CANNES, France, Aug. 23—Princess Leon Radaziwill, 60, who became one of the world's wealthiest women after her marriage to Prince Radziwill of Niewiez, died last night.

Ohio Showing 'Deep Valley'

Ida Lupino, Dane Clark and Wayne Morris Cast in Leading Roles.

"Deep Valley," which is now playing through Thursday at the Ohio theater, co-stars Ida Lupino, Dane Clark and Wayne Morris, with Fay Bainter and Henry Hull in featured roles.

The setting for the rugged story is in the mountain country near Monterey in California, and is concerned with the Saul family which is dominated by hate and suspicion. The mother pretends illness and stays in her room, the father takes his hate out on the struggling farm, and the daughter, Libby, played by Ida Lupino, has a stammer in her speech.

The dramatic story moves on and reaches a climax when Libby meets two of the men who are helping to build a new highway near the Saul ranch. Wayne Morris plays Jeff Barker, who is the supervisor in charge, and Dane Clark is seen as Barry Burnett, one of the convicts on the road gang.

Opening Friday to be shown for seven days will be "Cry Wolf," starring Errol Flynn and Barbara Stanwyck, for the first time together on the screen. Seen in a featured role is Richard Basehart, who hails from Zanesville, O.

The picture, filled with mystery and suspense, tells the story of Sandra Demarest, played by Barbara Stanwyck, whose young husband, Jim, (Richard Basehart) is believed dead. When Sandra arrives at the family's vast country estate, she is greeted with hostility by Jim's uncle Mark, played by Errol Flynn, executor and guardian of Jim's trust. How Sandra meets the real danger, when an attempt is made on her life, and escapes at last is told in suspenseful sequences.

An added attraction opening Friday will be a technicolor special, "A Boy and His Dog." This age-old story concerns Billy Sheffield stealing a mean old farmer's hound dog which the farmer had been mistreating, and caring for it until the farmer comes for the dog and has the boy arrested.

Bette Davis And Glenn Ford Star In State Picture

"A Stolen Life," starring Bette Davis and Glenn Ford, and "Gunman's Code" with Kirby Grant and Fuzzy Knight will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State theater.

Billed as a double feature Tuesday and Wednesday are "Till the Clouds Roll By" and "Law of the Saddle." The former stars Robert Walker and Judy Garland, and heading the cast in the latter are Bob Livingston and Al St. John.

Leon Errol and Elizabeth Risdon are the starring players in "Mama Loves Papa" which is the main attraction of a double feature billed for Thursday through Saturday. Completing the billing is "Stars Over Texas" with Eddie Dean and Shirley Patterson

College Grid Stars Crush Pro Champs In 16 to 0 Upset

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 23—Although the football season still is just around the corner, a terrific upset already is on the books—the All Stars 16-0 triumph over the Chicago Bears.

The score doesn't begin to indicate the beating the National Football league champions took last night as 105,840 spectators who poured $355,000 into the till watched in surprise and near disbelief in Soldier field. The Bears failed to get beyond the All-Stars' 30 yard line.

Adroitly buoyed to the precise edge by Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame and his staff, the All-Stars humbled the 13-point favorites as they seldom have been humbled before on any field.

Owner-Coach George Halas' demons of the pro circuit never did get warmed up to a winning pitch as the All-Stars' great field general and passer, George Ratterman of Notre Dame, and mercurial Buddy Young of Illinois engineered two touchdowns in the first quarter to topple the Bears for the first time in five appearances in the classic.

All-Stars Patched Up

The All-Star line, patched with guards at tackle positions because of training injuries, became a defensive nightmare for the Halas boys, holding the Bears' high-octane ground game to a total of 35 yards by rushing—an all-time low for any pro team since the games were inaugurated in 1934.

The fast-charging forwards also short-circuited the Bears' vaunted aerial attack which clicked for only 81 yards as Sid Luckman completed eight tosses and absorbed several long losses being trapped and spilled while trying to uncork other shots

The 5 foot 5 inch Young, who has matched the world's record of 9.4 in the 100-yard dash, appears destined for a great pro career with the New York Yankees of the All-America conference, and Ratterman's quarterbacking and passing should give the Buffalo Bills of the same loop a feared offensive.

Score at Start

At the outset the All-Stars marched 82 yards to score. Young zipped down the sidelines 31 yards on a lateral from Ratterman; Charley Trippi added 19, Jim Mello belted 15 and the final six through right tackle

The second score capped an 87-yard thrust in six plays. Ratterman, faking a punt, tossed five yards to the fleet-footed Negro who stepped off 36 more behind excellent blocking of four teammates Ratterman then hit Jack Zilly (Los Angeles Rams) with a 40-yard pass and the Notre Dame end took it over his shoulder to prance five yards to the touchdown without a man near him

The All-Stars stabbed to the one-yard line twice in the last half and were inside the 10-yard marker three times, twice by recovering Bear fumbles—but they failed to cash in. During two of these sorties, Ratterman connected with Horace Gillom of Nevada (Cleveland Browns) for 45 yards and with Ted Scruggs of Rice (Brooklyn Dodgers) for 15.

Ernie Case of U C L A. (Baltimore Colts) placekicked one point after touchdown and missed one In the third period he booted a 23-yard field goal after guard John Mastrangelo of Notre Dame (Pittsburgh Steelers) pounced on George McAfee's fumble

Return Inter-Club Golf Tournament Set Sunday

The return match between Mar-O-Del and the Country Club is scheduled at the Country club course tomorrow morning. Mar-O-Del will be trying to duplicate the victory won earlier this season on their own course, while the Country club hopes to even the count

Each team expects to have 32 golfers in the field. Pairings will be announced as they arrive at the links and play should start by 8:30 a. m.

Feller Hurls Four-Hitter

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23—A four-hit victory over the mighty New York Yankees was Bobby Feller's answer today to contention barnstorming has impaired his pitching ability.

Sharply criticized by fans and sportswriters after he failed to win approval of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler for his announced plans to play in the Cuban league this fall, Feller last night was up against what many called the "acid test."

His pitching, which enabled the Indians to down the Yankees, 6-1, after winning the opener of the twin-bill, 4-3, wasn't the best of his career, but apparently it satisfied the fans

The victory was the fireballer's 15th of the season against nine setbacks.

Lima, Ashland Triumph In Softball Tourney

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O, Aug. 23—Six games were scheduled today as the second round of the 1947 men's state softball championship got underway.

Three games this afternoon, and three tonight complete the day's schedule in the double elimination meet.

Lima's J and T Beer beat Shaefer's Fruits of Marietta, 2-1, and duplicated the feat by downing Sobel Jewelry of Elyria by the same score yesterday.

Ashland beat Circleville, 7-5, in the first game of the afternoon, and set down Pine Room of Springfield, 5-4, at night.

Cunningham Memorial Trophy Offered in Y Tennis Tourney

Newton Cunningham of 232 Hane avenue serving with the Army overseas at the time of the death of his father T M Cunningham in Oct. 1943, is offering a trophy in his father's memory, to the person who wins the men's senior tennis championship at the Y courts next month.

It will be in the memory of one of the pioneer sportsmen of Marion. The late Mr. Cunningham was an accomplished athlete, performing with finesse in most sports. He was a member of the Y independent team, which was the first of its kind in Marion He also staged boxing exhibitions throughout this part of Ohio and was active in Y baseball and volleyball.

Credited as being the pioneer of Marion tennis, he played the game until late in life

His sons, Newton and Ted, follow in their father's athletic footsteps Newton is now running the plumbing business started by his father and is rated as one of the better local players. Ted is coaching high school sports at Lakewood, Ohio.

Deadline for entry in the tourney for the memorial trophy is Aug. 30. An $1 entry fee is required for persons competing

Two other tourneys will be held in conjunction with this one. One will be for boys under 18 years of age and the other for girls under 18. No entry fee is required in these two divisions

40 Galionites Practice Football in Broiling Sun

Special to The Star

GALION—Forty gridiron candidates took a punch at the dummy, and went through regular sessions of charging, blocking, ground work, and calisthenics, under a scorching sun at Heise park, when they answered the first call of football practice this week.

Coach Ed Rannow said that the prospective team for Galion High school 1947 is a little light in weight, but the boys look good along with the nucleus of eight veteran players. New recruits showed willingness to learn, Rannow said They will entertain Tiffin Calvert here on Sept. 13 for the first game of the season, and Crestline High will come to Galion on the following Friday night

BROWNS EDGE CUBS IN 12-11 SLUGFEST

Special to The Star

NEWARK, Aug. 23—Marion faltered in the late innings and dropped a wild 12-11 game to the Newark Browns in Arnold park here last night in the first game of a four-game series. The two teams play here Saturday night and end relations with a split double bill Sunday.

With two out in the ninth and bases empty Mike Bernadett singled past short. Johnny Batt then sliced a rousing triple, his second, down the right field line to plate Bernadett with the winning run.

Ed Witowski, third Marion pitcher, was the losing hurler. He entered the game in the second frame.

Jitts Lawrence started for the Cubs but didn't last the first inning. The Browns batted around to score five times on four hits before Graney finally retired them. The Cubs came right back in the top of the second frame to send 10 men to the plate and score five times. That finished Charley Aurandt, Newark starter.

Marion chased Dick McEvoy, Aurandt's successor, in the third with another five-run barrage. Don Bayliss then entered the second and pitched beautiful baseball the remainder of the way, allowing only four hits.

Newark squeezed in the tying run in the eighth inning after a passed ball by Manager Nelson Burbrink put the runner in scoring position at third. Wendell Lawrence bunted the ball and Fowler scooted home. Marion collected only nine hits to Newark's 17 but 15 Cubs received bases on balls.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

GIVE CUBS A FEW CHEERS

Editor of The Star Veteran baseball fans are somewhat at a loss at the action of some of the fans at Lincoln park in razzing several Marion Cub players. It is certainly poor taste and may cost the city heavily when the chips are down in the pennant scrap.

Several players have been the targets of unjustified razzing from the fans here. All of this despite the fact that these players are playing a leading role in the pennant drive for the city.

A few cheers for these boys might lift the spirit of the club to the point that the pennant will be the prize.

It has been a display of bad sportsmanship on the part of some of the wolves here and it would be much better taste if the fans all pulled for the club in its efforts to land the pennant.

LONG SHOT WINS IN FINAL RACES

Worthy Land paid off at $71 40 in the first heat of the 2-year-old trot yesterday to feature the four event card of the concluding race program at the county fair.

Owned by Dr. J. F. Smyth of Marion and driven by Kaser, the two-year-old came home in front of He's It from the Battles Stables in Richwood, the latter horse finishing second in both heats of the opening event. Trueland owned by Vern Phillips of Irwin, O. took the second heat with Bidwell in the sulky and paid $3.20.

Hand Book from the Parlay Acres Farm here went true to form in taking both heats of the 2-year-old pace with Walter Dispanett driving. Handbook paid $5 60 and $2 60, at straight betting only. Dr. Smyth's Reliance finished second in both heats.

In the 17 pace, the third race, Mose Hanover swept both heats with Miller driving the C. G. Munn of Jackson, Mich. entry Little Booker with Dispanett in the sulky came home second in the first heat with Ginger Grattan handled by Butler taking second place in the final heat. Mose Hanover paid $3.20.

In the final event, the 24 pace, Clever Jimmy owned by Earl Strock of Wooster paid $6 20 in winning the first heat with Mr. Richwood, the entry of Mrs. Pauline Kramer of Mt. Vernon, paying $6 in the second heat, nosing out Clever Jimmy's attempt to make it two straight.

Track officials who estimated the afternoon attendance at 3 000, declared the 1947 race program had been one of the best in recent years

Eddie Dyer's Fla Hopes Falling Fas As Cards Flounde

By The Associated Press

That glossy pennant picture, as painted only the other day Eddie Dyer, master manipulator of the St. Louis Cardinals, appea today to have become somewhat blurred.

Despite Dyer's assertion following St. Louis' recent series w the Dodgers, it would be a fight right down to the wire "with the Cards winning it," it was doubtful whether the unpredictable Redbirds have ever been worse off than at this moment.

Beaten for the second time in three games by the lowly Phillies in Philadelphia last night, the Cards skidded to six full games behind the front-running Brooklyn team in the hectic National league race.

The Brooks continued to fatten up on the second division outfits, eking out a 5-5 victory over Cincinnati in 12 hard-fought innings at Ebbets field. A muff of a thrown ball by catcher Ray Lamanno enabled Dixie Walker of the Dodgers to score the winning run.

A ninth inning home run by Al Lakeman with one on won for the Phillies, 4-2. The four-base blow was a climax to a pitching duel between Dutch Leonard of the Phils and Harry (The Cat) Brecheen of the Cards.

Bob Feller pitched his 15th victory of the season a siney Cleveland Indians swept a doubleheader from the American league leading New York Yankees, 4-3 and 6-1, before 52,105 fans at municipal stadium.

Ted Williams collected six hits in seven times at bat as the Boston Red Sox divided a doubleheader with the White Sox in Chicago. Williams got two hits in three times in the first game and four for four in the second which was won by Boston, 6-3. The White Sox, behind Ed Lopat, won the opener 7-2.

After appearing in 37 games in relief roles for the Chicago Cubs, Emil Kush held the Boston Braves to four hits for a 5-1 victory while making his first 1947 start.

The New York Giants increased their season home run output to 166 when Will Marshall, Walker Cooper and Mickey Witek slammed four baggers to lead them to an 8-7 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates at the Polo grounds

After absorbing a double defeat at the hands of Washington Thursday, the Detroit Tigers retaliated by winning two from the Senators in Detroit, 7-6 and 2-0.

A three-run double by Walt Judnich in the eighth inning enabled the Browns to come from behind and defeat the fast traveling Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5, in a night game at Philadelphia.

Willie Pep Scores K.O. In Defense of Title

By The Associated Press

FLINT, Mich., Aug. 23—Willie Pep 24-year-old Hartford Comet, put notice in the record today after eight years of professional boxing his lease on the world featherweight championship is renewed.

Before a crowd of 10,385 last night in Flint's outdoor Atwood stadium, the Connecticut speedster stood off the first challenge to his crown since he stopped Sal Bartolo in New York in June 1946, and won a twelfth-round kayo.

His challenger was Flint's ambitious hometown boy, Jock Leslie, with 34 knockouts to his credit in 68 fights, and pep blasted him to the canvas in 45 seconds of the 12th stanza.

Referee Clarence Rosen and Judges Joe Lenehan of Detroit and Eddie Haley of Flint were unanimous in giving Leslie only the second round.

classes of livestock which were shown. These point scores were in turn judged by experienced officials and credit was given to the young person having the most perfect score.

Two Ties Decided

The first contest was held Wednesday, but the results ended in a tie. Thursday another contest was held and a second tie resulted. The contest went into the final round yesterday morning.

Winners are as follows: (14 years and under) dairy, Don Loudenslager, Morral 4-H, 83 points; beef, Dick Seiter, Pleasant, 4-H, 84 points; hogs, John Forry, Morral 4-H, 92 points.

Age 14 and over, dairy, Carl Murphy, Meeker 4-H, 92 points; beef, Howard Davids, Prospect FFA, 100 points; hogs, Howard Murphy, Meeker FFA, 100 points.

Grand winner of all rings, (those having highest total number of points), first, Tommy Knickel, Prospect 4-H and FFA, 259; second, Granville Martin, Pleasant FFA and George Wilson, Meeker 4-H and FFA both scored 258 points; third, John Forry, Morral 4-H and Kenneth Hedges, Pleasant 4-H, 250 points each; fourth, Howard Davids, Prospect FFA and Warren Seiter, Pleasant 4-H, 249 points each, fifth Dick Seiter, Pleasant 4-H, 242 points.

Many Enter State Fair

Late yesterday afternoon the exhibitors started to remove their entries and the livestock owners prepared to take their animals either home or on to enter the Ohio State fair which opened today in Columbus. About 25 per cent of the Marion exhibitors are planning to take their prize-winners to the state event.

The fairgrounds today was taking on a bare look with only empty buildings and heaps of paper, popcorn boxes and what-have-you cluttering up the grounds. One more annual fair has been wrapped up and put away for another year.

statistician for the department of agriculture.

In some areas of Indiana there were reports that a complete collapse of corn crop prospects had occurred within the last few days.

The hot blast remained stationary over virtually all the midwest, the forecaster said, adding that temperatures could be expected to climb to between 95 and 100 degrees again today in Illinois, eastern Nebraska and eastern Dakotas.

No rainfall was in sight for the region except possible local scattered showers, the weather bureau said.

The heat wave, now in its sixth continuous day from the Appalachians to the Rockies, was reported spreading into New England and the middle Atlantic states. Temperature in the southeastern states were expected to continue "seasonably warm" today and about normal on the Pacific coast.

killed she was rushed to a hospital in Les Vegas, Nev., for what physicians described as an overdose of sleeping tablets. Twice in France she was reported to have taken overdoses of the pills.

The attractive, dark-haired Miss Hill skyrocketed into the public eye on June 20 when Siegel, a figure in California bookmaking and gambling activities, was slain as he sat on a davenport reading a newspaper in Virginia's luxurious Beverly Hills home.

It had been reported both here and in California that she, too, was on the killer's list.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"PHIL didn't do much spouting after that last speech of mine about the 'inherited royal rages' being things which could be controlled," I said. "He really was quite subdued, even contrite."

"A pansy and a petunia on a rose geranium leaf to your ladyship!" Katharine intoned. "Also a citation, and a couple of war medals! Anybody who can make old Phil Veritzen eat crow and pretend to like it—Oh, I know him! He'd carry off being kicked down stairs as if it were a royal decoration of some sort!"

I laughed at her accurate limning of the great producer, and she leveled a compelling forefinger at me.

"No time out for raucous mirth." she reproved sternly. "I must get back to Mary presently—it's too much to hope that she'll go to sleep—but I warn you I shall expire in spasms at your feet if you don't finish up your saga of Phil Veritzen."

"There isn't much more," I said. "In his own grandiose way, he promised to see that both Noel and Mary should understand the royal rages were not inherited but deliberately built up. He also, with apparent indignation at me for supposing that he would tell Noel my story of Mary's belief in her own supposedly sinister inheritance, and her relief from that fear, solemnly averred that he would say nothing to Noel of the matter, or of the bars."

Katharine drew a deep breath, and threw a kiss at me.

Believes in Fairies

"Yes, I do believe in fairies,' she chanted, "also in Santa Claus, also in Mistress Madge Graham, her last incarnation, in Salem on the gallows tree! But, all this was before he saw Mary. I suppose he put on a welcoming act for the prodigal daughter?"

"There was no reference to any prodigal," I said. And then, as quickly as possible, I described the royal welcome Philip had given his daughter-in-law, and went on to tell of his wish to have the play ready for rehearsal in six weeks, and in production in four months.

"Cracking the whip, eh?" Katharine commented. "What did Mary say to that?"

"Agreed, and told him she'd ride herd on me till I finished the play, but showed district chagrin when Phil, after promising her a build-up such as a star never had before, told her the play would run five years."

"Aha!" Katharine said. "I smell the mouse in the wainscoting. It all stems back to something we've tacitly refrained from discussing."

Marys Revelation

"But we don't need to keep back our comments any longer," I said, and then told her of Mary's revelation, after Phil had gone away satisfied with her attitude, that she and Noel at the breakfast table had been discussing planned parenthood; that they had hoped Phil would delay the play for a year, but that she thought they had better delay the parenthood instead.

"It's lucky for her she thought out that decision for herself," Katharine commented dryly.

"What do you mean?" I asked, startled, although I was sure I knew what she was going to say.

"I think you know very well what I mean," Katharine said. "It would be a crime for Mary to have a child this year. Here she's been in a sanitarium for a year, and for part of that year she's been carrying that awful fear around with her, a fear from which she was released only an hour or two ago.

"Granted Noel had no rages for a year before she went to the sanitarium, and none while she was there. But if I were Mary, I'd want to see his reaction when the novelty of the reunion wears off and he discovers, as he must, that, while Mary wants motherhood, she also wants to combine it with her career, making a success of both, as super women troupers always have done."

Stared Incredulously

I stared at her incredulously.

"You are echoing Phil Veritzen's remarks on the subject," I told her.

"Well," she said flippantly, "he knows his theatrical onions, why not his theatrical obstetrics?"

"You don't think, then," I queried, a bit bewildered, "that Mary's own attitude toward motherhood is any bar to her having a child?"

"Not a bit," Katharine retorted, "but after her experience this last year, she should devote all her attention to three things for awhile: building up her own physical and mental health; preparing for her come-back in your play; and grooming Noel for his role as the father of a women theatrical star's child. After a few months' hard work on those projects, she can begin to think of motherhood."

15 HURT IN ACCIDENT

By The Associated Press

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 23—Fifteen persons, including several Ohioans, were injured yesterday when an automobile crashed into a safety street car zone crowded with afternoon workers and shoppers. Among the injured were Mrs. Myron Battlestone, 41, Bellaire, O., and her 16-year-old daughter, Lillian. Mrs. Albert A. Frey, 55, St. Clairsville, identified by police as driver of the machine, said she became frightened when she saw a street car bearing down on her.

Blondie By Chic You

ALL I SEE AT BREAKFAST IS YOUR NEWSPAPER AND YOUR HAND--DAGWOOD, PUT THE PAPER DOWN!
THERE, THAT'S BETTER
NOW, I CAN'T SEE HIM AT ALL

Rip Kirby By Alex Raymon

RIP! I ALMOST SHOT YOU! WHERE ARE YOU GOING?
POINT THAT THING THE OTHER WAY! I DIDN'T GIVE IT TO YOU TO USE ON ME!
IT'S JOE KOKO..THE LAD WHO SAILED ME HERE... HE'S TO MEET ME AT MIDNIGHT!
THERE IS SOMETHING WRONG ON RAINBOW ISLAND, THEN!
OH, MY DARLING! THERE IS SOMETHING WRONG! BE CAREFUL! PLEASE!

Dick Tracy By Chester Gou

AHA! YOU RETURN, SIR? YOU LIKE MY COFFEES?
IT'S STRICTLY BUSINESS TODAY, ZABU. HERE'S MY IDENTIFICATION.
DICK TRACY!
UH—WHY, YES, I HAVE ONE CUSTOMER CALLED COFFYHEAD. WE DEAL STRICTLY BY MAIL. HE SEND MONEY. I SEND COFFEE.
I HAVE NO IDEA WHERE HE LIVE. I NEVER SEE HIM FACE TO FACE.

Superman By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shust

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, TOO LATE? WHAT'S HAPPENED?
I JUST TESTED THIS BOTTLE OF YOUTH-SERUM FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE YOU BROUGHT IT TO THIS VAULT!
YES—YES—WHAT ABOUT THE SERUM?
YOU SEE—UNTIL NOW, I HADN'T TOUCHED IT! I WAS PREPARING THE LAB FOR MY EXPERIMENTS.
THE STUFF IN THIS BOTTLE ISN'T SERUM! IT'S PLAIN WATER! SUPERMAN— I DEMAND AN EXPLANATION!

Gasoline Alley By Frank Ki

HOME AGAIN!
COULD YOU BELIEVE THAT A PLACE COULD GROW UP SO IN THREE WEEKS!
PAPA'S GOT TO GO TO WORK AROUND HERE.
I DREAD LOOKING INSIDE.
UNCLE WALT STOPPED THE MILK ALL RIGHT!
YES, BUT IT TOOK HIM FIVE DAYS TO DO IT.

Joe Palooka By Ham Fishe

JOE HAS BEEN CALLED EAST TO CONFER ON THE NATIONAL YOUTH TRAINING PROGRAM.
8-23
TH' CHANCES ARE THAT SHE WENT EAST... AN' WE'LL KEEP LOOKIN' FROM THERE... I'M AS DISAPPOINTED AS YOU ARE, KID.
ME TOO, JOEY.
I GUESS IT'S JUST AS WELL... I'LL NEVER GIVE UP LOOKING... I'LL FIND HER.
WE'LL KEEP PRIVATE DETECTIVE AGENCIES ON TH' SEARCH.
LET'S GO OUT AN' HAVE A SMOKE.
HE'S SO CONFOUNT... I AIN'T BUT I'D NEVER LET ON T'HIM. SHE'S EV'RYTHING HE'S LIVIN' FER.
WOTTA GUY! SOMETIMES HE REMINDS ME OF ONE A THEM KNIGHTS IN "MUDDER GOOSE"! YA KNOW, SIR HOIBUT ER SIR GALLAHAD.

Terry and the Pirates By George Wunde

THIS IS LIKE A NIGHTMARE! THIS CRUMBLING OLD WAREHOUSE THAT BOK CLAIMS WAS ONCE HIS ANCESTOR'S PALACE... AND THE MELODRAMATIC FOOL SITTING IN THE MIDDLE OF IT, WAITING FOR THE POLICE TO COME! THIS IS NO PLACE FOR LITTLE ERMINE...
I KNOW WHAT'S RUNNING THROUGH YOUR PRETTY LITTLE HEAD, MY SWEET, BUT YOU'D BETTER NOT TRY IT. YOU'D HAVE SHARED THE SPOILS IF WE'D WON, SO YOU'LL SHARE THE PRICE OF FAILURE. WE'LL WAIT FOR THEM TO TRACE US — TOGETHER.
...AND IN ANOTHER PART OF THE TOWN...
LOOK, PAT! THERE'S BOK'S JEEP.

The Gumps By Gus Edso

I KNOW HOW NOAH FELT... MAROONED ON THIS MOUNTAIN TWO DAYS IN THE RAIN!
CHEER UP, TILDA... IT CAN'T RAIN FOREVER...
IT CAN TRY...HUFF... LET'S TAKE A RAIN-CHECK AND GO HOME....
THIS IS HOME AND A GLORIOUS, WONDROUS HOME IT IS...
FEWER ADJECTIVES... MORE WORK, SQUIRE.. MEND SOME OF THOSE ATTIC LEAKS!
HERE'S A TOWEL.. TAKE A SHOWER WHILE YOU'RE UP THERE.....
BAH! MAYBE I CAN GET SOME PEACE AND QUIET THERE!
WE DOUBT THAT, ANDY!
